Data Given On Bypass 'Surprise' Deed

Melvin Yates Filed Paper, Officials Say

County Commission May Study City's Measure Monday

Many additional details were available Thursday on a small plot of ground which was recently thrust into the center of the Route 23 bypass controversy.

The long wrangle here over the state's plan to take the highway off Court Street and loop it around the western side of the corporation is currently complicated by a deed filed unexpectedly late Tuesday afternoon. The transfer of ownership, foes of the bypass contend, brings 10 more property owners into the move to detach a Westside area.

Bypass supporters are trying to win final approval for the detachment, thus clearing the way for the state to build the bypass between the west side of the city and the Scioto River. They claim a majority of the affected property owners have signed approval of the detachment.

But this claim doesn't allow for the 10 land owners whose names appear on the newly filed deed. Filing of the deed was disclosed last Tuesday night, just as City Council was preparing to meet and pass the detachment ordinance.

DESPITE THE disclosure, Council went ahead and passed the ordinance—by inference refusing to recognize legality of the new deed. And now the whole question—Council's ordinance, together with the legality of the land transfer — is being placed in the lap of Pickaway County commissioners.

Routine sanction by the commissioners is required by law. Chairman Bill Goode of the commission said Thursday that the top county officials may begin study of the matter next Monday. County Prosecutor William Ammer is due back from a vacation within the next few days.

Meanwhile, the Pickaway County Recorder's office revealed more information on the surprise land transaction — a transfer of part-lot No. 944 from Allen and Catherine Shaeffer to Robert Shadley and others. The deed was originally drawn on April 17, 1953. Mrs. Shaeffer died on June 2 of last year.

Shadley is listed in Circleville city directory information as a book-keeper for the Crites Milling Co. George Crites, a city councilman, is generally regarded as top spokesman for those opposed to moving Route 23 off Court St.

Crites told fellow members of Council he was notified of the filing of the deed late Tuesday afternoon, only a few hours before Council met.

Later in the session, he declined to vote on the proposal to detach the western land section. He added he could not honestly vote for the bypass plan.

Amateur Sailors Taken Off Raft

Attempt To Drift From Frisco To Hawaii Ends In Near Disaster

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five wet and weary amateur sailors who had hoped to drift to Hawaii were plucked from their foundering, powerless raft 60 miles off the California coast today.

The freighter Metapan radioed at 4:25 a. m. that all the men had been rescued despite high seas and strong winds.

Presumably all were in good condition. Details of the rescue were not available.

The Metapan, which located the tiny yellow raft Lehi, 62 miles due west of Point Sal, said it was heading for San Francisco, about 175 miles away. It was expected to dock late today.

The 32-foot six-sided raft was cast adrift by the Metapan, but the Coast Guard said the cutter Alert would find it and destroy it as a menace to navigation.

Search for the fragile raft, which put out from San Francisco last Friday, ended off Morro Bay 8 hours after the Coast Guard answered an urgent SOS that the craft was sinking.

The Metapan, which sailed from Golfito, Costa Rica, July 9 with a cargo of bananas, was in the area when it picked up the SOS.

The United Fruit Co. freighter picked up a radio signal from the Lehi at 12:25 a. m. and took the raft alongside less than three hours later in what the Coast Guard praised as a marvel of seamanship.

The Lehi's SOS said:

"Taking water. Bow opened during heavy sea. Need tow. Sinkable condition. Raft Lehi."

The call followed four days of private searching and two days of radio appeal by the raft's ailing radio operator, Don Smith of Santa Rosa, to be taken from the Lehi.

The Lehi is manned by five amateurs who set out from San Francisco Friday hoping to drift 2,200 miles southwest to Hawaii. Skippered by Devere Baker, a Mormon preacher, they took no food or water. They hoped to catch fish and are using a solar still to make sea water drinkable. They've reported snaring one salmon and one shark for food.

The raft drifted south instead of southwest.

Aboard the Lehi with Baker and Smith were Joe Fearon, Judge L. Hawks and J. Keith Pope, a newspaperman. All were from the San Francisco area except Hawkes who is from Ogden, Utah.

One Farm Has $26,800 Damage As Big Storm Strikes In County

"Baby hurricane" was the way residents in the northeastern part of Pickaway County described the storm which blew into the area Wednesday night. County Engineer Henry McCrady estimated that at least 50 trees were blown down in Madison Township alone.

One farm on the opposite side of the county suffered an estimated $26,800 worth of damage when lightning struck a barn. A farm in Madison Township had buildings turned around and roofs blown off.

In Circleville, the sheriff department's radio transmitter on top of the Court House was struck by lightning putting it out of commission. It was not working Thursday morning, the sheriff said.

South Central Rural Electric Association reports a number of power failures in the county occurred during the storm. They say, however, that most service has been restored.

The main exception is north of Circleville east of Route 23, the firm said. Service in this area was still out as of noon Thursday, they say.

AT ABOUT 10 P. M. Wednesday, according to Deputy Sheriff Carl White lightning hit a barn south of Mt. Sterling belonging to Clyde and Ralph DeLay. The $26,800 loss they reported included the following:

Four thousand bales of hay, a corn picker, a 4-row corn planter, a combine, two corn cultivators, a hay loader and a baler in addition to the barn.

In Madison Township, Deputy White said the farm of Wayne Brown was badly hit. At about 11 p. m., he said, roofs of three barns were blown off. Three buildings were turned around on their foundations, he said. And the chimney from the house was blown off.

Deputy White said damage might run into the thousands of dollars

Elyria Votes Again To Keep Tollroad Peace

ELYRIA (AP)—City council agreed last night to stick by its peace pact with the Ohio Turnpike Commission in spite of a statement by the council president that the city was "treated shabbily" in settling the right-of-way dispute.

By the same 5-4 vote which OKd the pact a week ago, council rejected an appeal by its president, Kenneth B. Lord, that the lengthy controversy be reopened because he was "ashamed of the bargain we made."

The commission has offered to pay Elyria $135,000 in exchange for the city giving up its demand that $500,000 be spent for overpasses.

But as the turnpike commission meets today in Columbus to award a contract for construction of the long delayed stretch of toll road across northern Elyria, an attorney promised to file a taxpayer's suit here to continue the fight.

R. H. Rice, counsel for the Elyria Chronicle Telegram, which has opposed the commission's routing of the 240-mile toll road, said he would challenge the legality of the settlement reached by council and the commission. He said the peace-pact resolution was not an emergency measure and was not given the three readings required by law.

Allies Finding 'New Unity,' Dulles Reports

Diplomats Says U.S. Sacrifices None Of Anti-Red Principles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles returned from three-power talks at Paris today saying "we have found a formula for constructive Allied unity" which will strengthen the anti-Communist position on Indochina peace.

Dulles flew to Paris Monday night and held emergency consultations with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Premier Mendes-France. One of his decisions was that Undersecretary of State W. Bedell Smith should go to the Geneva conference to participate in the final round of talks with the Reds on Indochina.

Diplomats here believe that Dulles would not have agreed to send Smith to Geneva to provide high level U. S. participation in the conference unless he had assurance from Mendes-France ruling out peace at any price.

In a statement upon his arrival here this morning, Dulles said the Paris talks "have brought about an understanding concerning Indochina much more complete than has theretofore existed."

This, he added, enabled the Western ministers "to demonstrate anew the solidarity of the Western powers in the face of Communist hostility and intrigue."

Bay Village 'Slayer' Says Story Is Hoax

BALTIMORE (AP) — Investigation of the Cleveland slaying of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard was sidetracked here today by a 36-year-old electrician who said he had information about the case, then admitted his story was a hoax.

Thomas J. Parrino, assistant prosecutor of Cuyahoga County, flew here last night to question George W. Ennis although the man admitted making up his yarn.

After questioning Ennis two and a half hours last night and early today, Parrino asked Baltimore authorities to hold the man "in connection with the Sheppard murder case."

The quiz is to continue today.

Ennis, an admitted embezzler in Ohio, who gave his address as Phoenix, Md., entered the case yesterday when he made a long distance telephone call to a Cleveland newspaper.

Ennis told a bizarre story concerning the slaying of the 31-year-old wife of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath. While a Cleveland reporter stalled Ennis on the telephone, other staffers contacted authorities who had Baltimore police pick up the telephone caller.

Under questioning by Baltimore detectives before Parrino arrived Ennis repudiated the story he told the Cleveland paper. He said he had been drinking and made up the yarn to impress a girl friend.

Cleveland police said they had confirmed Ennis was in Cleveland at the time of the murder. He had worked there as an electrician and at one time lived in a suburb adjoining Bay Village, the fashionable lakefront community where the Sheppards lived.

Would-Be Robber Shot By Cafeman

STEUBENVILLE (AP) — George Kramarich, who told police he was resisting a robbery attempt, shot and critically wounded Joe Vaccaro of Bellaire today.

Kramarich, who operates a bar in Weirton, W. Va., said he was blackjacked on the head after he returned to his home in nearby Deandale with the day's receipts. Kramarich, 34, said he pulled a .32 pistol and shot under his arm at the man behind him.

Vaccaro, 40, was hit once in the shoulder and twice in the abdomen. He was taken to a local hospital in "fair" condition. No charges were filed immediately.

Phone Operators Strike Over Heat

STEUBENVILLE (AP) — Phone company officials planned to meet today with 130 toll operators who say they won't return to work until air conditioned quarters are provided.

The operators walked out of the Ohio Bell office in 90-degree temperature yesterday and said: "You can put more clothes on to keep warm, but you can't take enough off to keep cool."

The operators, who said fans were too noisy for them to hear calls, emphasized that the union was not involved in the strike.

Slowdown Firings Bringing Parley

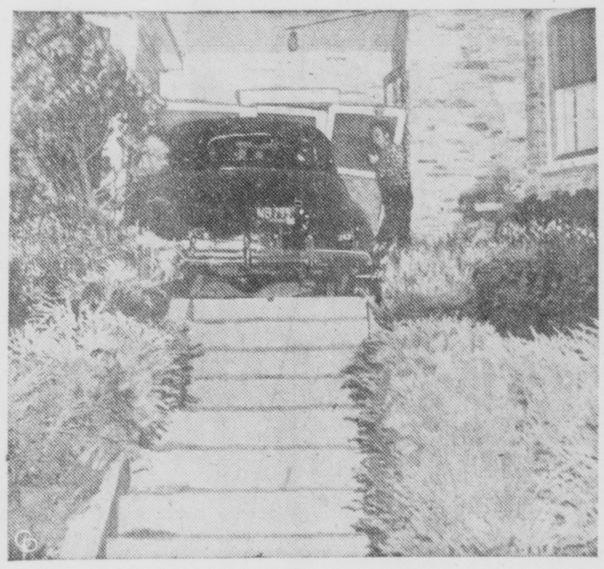

COLUMBUS (AP) — Discussion of what Westinghouse officials term a deliberate production slowdown will be discussed today as 1,000 workers were allowed to return to work.

They were laid off three days this week as a disciplinary measure, company officials said. They announced that if work level doesn't return to normal today, the employes will face another two-day layoff.

Union and company officials agreed to meet to discuss the problem. Officials of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said any apparent drop in production was due to quotas "humanly impossible" to meet.

Measure OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today approved and sent to the House a bill to strip citizenship rights from persons convicted of conspiring to overthrow the government by force.

IT WAS ABOUT 2:30 A. M. when Mrs. Edward V. Vogeley, of East Meadow, N. Y., was awakened by a clattering in the sun porch. Upon investigation she discovered that the 13-year-old jalopy of John Tyson had somehow managed to cross 350 feet of lawn, climb 23 shallow steps and halt just outside the front door. The car went out of control and Tyson said he thought he had hit a "bumpy road."

Court-Martial Faces Tough Army Leaders

FT. DIX, N. J. (AP)—Court-martial proceedings have been ordered against an Army lieutenant and a sergeant charged with having their company stand at attention for an hour in 90-degree heat.

An investigation into the June 21 incident led to the court-martial order yesterday by Col. Earl R. Ringler, commanding officer of the 272nd Infantry Regiment.

(Editor's Note: The original Associated Press dispatch incorrectly reported that Wilbeck was from Wilmington, Ohio.).

Both men—Morgan was company commander and Witbeck his administrative first sergeant — have been relieved of their duties.

Several soldiers reportedly fainted during the disciplinary action, which was imposed for a reason not explained by the Army.

In his order yesterday, Ringler said Morgan would be charged with dereliction of duty under Article 92 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice "in that he negligently failed to take appropriate corrective action to prevent the unauthorized treatment of personnel in his command."

As for Witbeck, he will be tried for maltreatment of company personnel "by keeping them in formation and attention for an excessive period of time."

Bouncing Good Time Had By Tot In Unusual Fall

CINCINNATI (AP)—A bunch of clotheslines probably saved the life of Judy Combs, four years old, who rolled off a fourth floor fire escape while asleep.

The child fell about 20 feet before landing on the clotheslines. They bounced her back onto the fire escape on the second floor of the apartment building.

Tesco Lovell, 17, who said he was awakened by the thump of Judy's body on the lines, went to her rescue. She wasn't even crying, he told officers.

After being treated for a cut on the head, the child was released from a hospital. Mrs. Mary Combs, the mother, said she was asleep beside the youngster and didn't miss her until awakened by neighbors. The heat had caused the mother to move with the child to the fire escape.

5 Persons Die As Winds Rip Through State

Sweltering Day Ends As Mother Nature Turns To Violence

COLUMBUS (AP)—Angry winds upset parts of Ohio last night in severe electrical storms that caused at least five deaths. The storm raced from northwest to southeast climaxing a day of intense heat. Another death was attributed to heat and scores of Ohioans were injured.

Fires were set by lightning, trees uprooted and power and telephone service disrupted. Wind of hurricane strength lashed Franklin County and reached a brief peak of 76 miles per hour.

Franklin, Logan, Auglaize, Licking, Tuscarawas and Montgomery were among counties reporting violent winds, rain and lightning.

In Wapakoneta, 9-year-old Carl Pester was killed when winds collapsed a barn he sought shelter in during the storm. In Newark, Charles Garrard, 69, died of a fractured skull which police said apparently was caused by flying debris. He was found in a downtown street during the storm.

One man was electrocuted when he came in contact with a fallen live wire. He was Mark Richardson of Marietta.

Ohio Sewage Control Shows Rapid Gains

COLUMBUS (AP)—Construction of new sewage treatment plants and expansion of old facilities stepped up rapidly in the first six months this year, the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board says.

The board's acting chairman, Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, who also is acting state health director, said during that time 15 municipalities either completed new treatment plants or put in improvements.

The municipalities are Logan, Wilmington, Marion, Ironton, Bluffton, Jackson, Miamisburg, Westerville, Bedford, Vandalia, Richwood, Hiram, Shreve, Lodi and Leroy.

Dr. Dwork said 10 other communities expect work on new plants or extended facilities will be done by the end of this year. The communities are Findlay Lima, Athens, Cambridge, Oak Hill, Shelby, Coshocton, Piketon, Lexington and Newcomerstown.

During all of 1953 only 11 sewage projects were completed.

Dr. Dwork said 17 other communities have projects underway, but they will not be completed this year. The communities are Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Akron, Steubenville, Lorain, Galion, Kent, Hubbard Ashtabula, New Philadelphia, Oxford, Ottawa, Wadsworth, Waverly and St. Paris.

Dr. Dwork said the over-all construction program means Ohio now has 41 cities and 115 villages with sewage treatment plants the board lists as adequate.

Russia Unveils New Cold War Weapon Called 'Normal Look'

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP FOREIGN NEWS ANALYST

The Russians have unveiled a new weapon in the cold war.

It is the normal look.

Trapped in a monumental bureaucracy, the Soviets are attempting to convince the world that they are just as normal as anybody else, if not more so.

Outside their borders they have had some success. Their cultural offensive has prospered. Dozens of Soviet writers, artists and athletes have sallied forth—under unobtrusive surveillance—to spread the word that the Soviet Union's regime is interested only in making the world one big, happy family. In turn the Russians have dusted off the welcome mat for many a tourist from abroad.

The Russians have pulled the rug from under writers and scientists who in Stalin's day flourished by toadying to his pet fetishes. It is now proper for a Russian scientist to speak respectfully of Albert Einstein's relativity theory and Darwin's theories of evolution. Trofim Lysenko, the biologist who made himself a feared scientific dictator by hewing strictly to the Stalin line, now is in semi-disgrace.

All this—and much more of the same—is good Russian propaganda abroad. In such a background, Russian arguments become more persuasive, Russian protestations of peaceful coexistence become more convincing.

Internally, Russia's social development is struggling toward the point passed by Western nations somewhere in the Victorian era. A Victorian morality—quite alien to robust Russians—is being imposed from on high.

The ruling Communist regime is attempting the impossible in trying to persuade Russians to avoid alcoholic stimulants — the same stimulants downed with such vigor by the big shots. The ordinary Ivans just as fond of his vodka as Molotov is.

The controlled press is crying horror at the morals of youth. Teen-agers, spoiled brats whose Communist Party parents gave them too much money, are drinking, smoking, swearing and helling their way through life, avoiding work, becoming snobs, marrying for money, following fads, chasing girls, and doing all the things gilded youth might have done in 1880 London.

The official press expresses concern for the sanctity of the home. Divorces are harder to get. Only recently young Communists were instructed in their official journal that jealousy no longer is to be regarded as a "bourgeois survival" but a proper emotion for the new Soviet man protecting his happiness.

Writers are belabored for failure to achieve 'Socialist realism.' That means in the words of Pravda, showing "the Soviet people, led by the mighty Communist Party, as the creators of history." Writers are exhorted to produce satire to confound the bureaucrats, but when they do they are accused of being negative about it, of indicating such things might be typical of the New Soviet man.

Writers who fail — and writers and theatrical people who drink and carouse, incidentally — are drummed out of their organizations and their livelihoods.

In many ways it's much worse for professional people than the purges under Stalin. Then things were clearer. Knowing Stalin's prejudices, the writers and artists knew where they stood and what was expected of them.

All this may serve to convince some in the outside world that Russia is becoming more normal. But at home, people must be confused.

Bay Village 'Slayer' Says Story Is Hoax

BALTIMORE (AP) — Investigation of the Cleveland slaying of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard was sidetracked here today by a 36-year-old electrician who said he had information about the case, then admitted his story was a hoax.

Thomas J. Parrino, assistant prosecutor of Cuyahoga County, flew here last night to question George W. Ennis although the man admitted making up his yarn.

After questioning Ennis two and a half hours last night and early today, Parrino asked Baltimore authorities to hold the man "in connection with the Sheppard murder case."

The quiz is to continue today.

Ennis, an admitted embezzler in Ohio, who gave his address as Phoenix, Md., entered the case yesterday when he made a long distance telephone call to a Cleveland newspaper.

Ennis told a bizarre story concerning the slaying of the 31-year-old wife of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath. While a Cleveland reporter stalled Ennis on the telephone, other staffers contacted authorities who had Baltimore police pick up the telephone caller.

Under questioning by Baltimore detectives before Parrino arrived Ennis repudiated the story he told the Cleveland paper. He said he had been drinking and made up the yarn to impress a girl friend.

Cleveland police said they had confirmed Ennis was in Cleveland at the time of the murder. He had worked there as an electrician and at one time lived in a suburb adjoining Bay Village, the fashionable lakefront community where the Sheppards lived.

Phone Operators Strike Over Heat

STEUBENVILLE (AP) — Phone company officials planned to meet today with 130 toll operators who say they won't return to work until air conditioned quarters are provided.

The operators walked out of the Ohio Bell office in 90-degree temperature yesterday and said: "You can put more clothes on to keep warm, but you can't take enough off to keep cool."

The operators, who said fans were too noisy for them to hear calls, emphasized that the union was not involved in the strike.

Slowdown Firings Bringing Parley

COLUMBUS (AP) — Discussion of what Westinghouse officials term a deliberate production slowdown will be discussed today as 1,000 workers were allowed to return to work.

They were laid off three days this week as a disciplinary measure, company officials said. They announced that if work level doesn't return to normal today, the employes will face another two-day layoff.

Union and company officials agreed to meet to discuss the problem. Officials of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said any apparent drop in production was due to quotas "humanly impossible" to meet.

Measure OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today approved and sent to the House a bill to strip citizenship rights from persons convicted of conspiring to overthrow the government by force.

IT WAS ABOUT 2:30 A. M. when Mrs. Edward V. Vogeley, of East Meadow, N. Y., was awakened by a clattering in the sun porch. Upon investigation she discovered that the 13-year-old jalopy of John Tyson had somehow managed to cross 350 feet of lawn, climb 23 shallow steps and halt just outside the front door. The car went out of control and Tyson said he thought he had hit a "bumpy road."

Court-Martial Faces Tough Army Leaders

FT. DIX, N. J. (AP)—Court-martial proceedings have been ordered against an Army lieutenant and a sergeant charged with having their company stand at attention for an hour in 90-degree heat.

An investigation into the June 21 incident led to the court-martial order yesterday by Col. Earl R. Ringler, commanding officer of the 272nd Infantry Regiment.

(Editor's Note: The original Associated Press dispatch incorrectly reported that Wilbeck was from Wilmington, Ohio.).

Both men—Morgan was company commander and Witbeck his administrative first sergeant — have been relieved of their duties.

Several soldiers reportedly fainted during the disciplinary action, which was imposed for a reason not explained by the Army.

In his order yesterday, Ringler said Morgan would be charged with dereliction of duty under Article 92 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice "in that he negligently failed to take appropriate corrective action to prevent the unauthorized treatment of personnel in his command."

As for Witbeck, he will be tried for maltreatment of company personnel "by keeping them in formation and attention for an excessive period of time."

Bouncing Good Time Had By Tot In Unusual Fall

CINCINNATI (AP)—A bunch of clotheslines probably saved the life of Judy Combs, four years old, who rolled off a fourth floor fire escape while asleep.

The child fell about 20 feet before landing on the clotheslines. They bounced her back onto the fire escape on the second floor of the apartment building.

Tesco Lovell, 17, who said he was awakened by the thump of Judy's body on the lines, went to her rescue. She wasn't even crying, he told officers.

After being treated for a cut on the head, the child was released from a hospital. Mrs. Mary Combs, the mother, said she was asleep beside the youngster and didn't miss her until awakened by neighbors. The heat had caused the mother to move with the child to the fire escape.

COLUMBUS (AP)—J. Clyde English of Marion, chairman of the Ohio Tree Farm Committee, has announced addition of three private foresters to the group.

New members are William H. Hildebrand of Chillicothe, John T. Phillips of Piqua and William J. Bozett of Logan.

English said a tree farm is a privately owned woodland of ten acres or more operated for continuous production of wood products. Tree farms are sponsored by the American Forest Products Industries, Inc.

5 Persons Die As Winds Rip Through State

Sweltering Day Ends As Mother Nature Turns To Violence

COLUMBUS (AP)—Angry winds upset parts of Ohio last night in severe electrical storms that caused at least five deaths. The storm raced from northwest to southeast climaxing a day of intense heat. Another death was attributed to heat and scores of Ohioans were injured.

Fires were set by lightning, trees uprooted and power and telephone service disrupted. Wind of hurricane strength lashed Franklin County and reached a brief peak of 76 miles per hour.

Franklin, Logan, Auglaize, Licking, Tuscarawas and Montgomery were among counties reporting violent winds, rain and lightning.

In Wapakoneta, 9-year-old Carl Pester was killed when winds collapsed a barn he sought shelter in during the storm. In Newark, Charles Garrard, 69, died of a fractured skull which police said apparently was caused by flying debris. He was found in a downtown street during the storm.

One man was electrocuted when he came in contact with a fallen live wire. He was Mark Richardson of Marietta.

Ohio Sewage Control Shows Rapid Gains

COLUMBUS (AP)—Construction of new sewage treatment plants and expansion of old facilities stepped up rapidly in the first six months this year, the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board says.

The board's acting chairman, Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, who also is acting state health director, said during that time 15 municipalities either completed new treatment plants or put in improvements.

The municipalities are Logan, Wilmington, Marion, Ironton, Bluffton, Jackson, Miamisburg, Westerville, Bedford, Vandalia, Richwood, Hiram, Shreve, Lodi and Leroy.

Dr. Dwork said 10 other communities expect work on new plants or extended facilities will be done by the end of this year. The communities are Findlay Lima, Athens, Cambridge, Oak Hill, Shelby, Coshocton, Piketon, Lexington and Newcomerstown.

During all of 1953 only 11 sewage projects were completed.

Dr. Dwork said 17 other communities have projects underway, but they will not be completed this year. The communities are Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Akron, Steubenville, Lorain, Galion, Kent, Hubbard Ashtabula, New Philadelphia, Oxford, Ottawa, Wadsworth, Waverly and St. Paris.

Dr. Dwork said the over-all construction program means Ohio now has 41 cities and 115 villages with sewage treatment plants the board lists as adequate.

Russia Unveils New Cold War Weapon Called 'Normal Look'

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP FOREIGN NEWS ANALYST

The Russians have unveiled a new weapon in the cold war.

It is the normal look.

Trapped in a monumental bureaucracy, the Soviets are attempting to convince the world that they are just as normal as anybody else, if not more so.

Outside their borders they have had some success. Their cultural offensive has prospered. Dozens of Soviet writers, artists and athletes have sallied forth—under unobtrusive surveillance—to spread the word that the Soviet Union's regime is interested only in making the world one big, happy family. In turn the Russians have dusted off the welcome mat for many a tourist from abroad.

The Russians have pulled the rug from under writers and scientists who in Stalin's day flourished by toadying to his pet fetishes. It is now proper for a Russian scientist to speak respectfully of Albert Einstein's relativity theory and Darwin's theories of evolution. Trofim Lysenko, the biologist who made himself a feared scientific dictator by hewing strictly to the Stalin line, now is in semi-disgrace.

All this—and much more of the same—is good Russian propaganda abroad. In such a background, Russian arguments become more persuasive, Russian protestations of peaceful coexistence become more convincing.

Internally, Russia's social development is struggling toward the point passed by Western nations somewhere in the Victorian era. A Victorian morality—quite alien to robust Russians—is being imposed from on high.

The ruling Communist regime is attempting the impossible in trying to persuade Russians to avoid alcoholic stimulants — the same stimulants downed with such vigor by the big shots. The ordinary Ivans just as fond of his vodka as Molotov is.

The controlled press is crying horror at the morals of youth. Teen-agers, spoiled brats whose Communist Party parents gave them too much money, are drinking, smoking, swearing and helling their way through life, avoiding work, becoming snobs, marrying for money, following fads, chasing girls, and doing all the things gilded youth might have done in 1880 London.

The official press expresses concern for the sanctity of the home. Divorces are harder to get. Only recently young Communists were instructed in their official journal that jealousy no longer is to be regarded as a "bourgeois survival" but a proper emotion for the new Soviet man protecting his happiness.

Writers are belabored for failure to achieve 'Socialist realism." That means in the words of Pravda, showing "the Soviet people, led by the mighty Communist Party, as the creators of history." Writers are exhorted to produce satire to confound the bureaucrats, but when they do they are accused of being negative about it, of indicating such things might be typical of the New Soviet man.

Writers who fail — and writers and theatrical people who drink and carouse, incidentally — are drummed out of their organizations and their livelihoods.

In many ways it's much worse for professional people than the purges under Stalin. Then things were clearer. Knowing Stalin's prejudices, the writers and artists knew where they stood and what was expected of them.

All this may serve to convince some in the outside world that Russia is becoming more normal. But at home, people must be confused.

French Lose 2 Outposts To Rebel Forces

Monsoon Rains Come To Indochina Delta As Fighting Continues

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Two French defense outposts fell before Vietminh attackers as monsoon rains came to the Red River Delta yesterday and last night.

Vietnamese defenders abandoned the post of Chiquan, 25 miles west of Hanoi, after a brief fight against 400 to 500 Vietminh attackers, a French briefing officer reported.

Thirty-five miles northwest of Hanoi, a second small post on the edge of Delta defenses fell under another Vietminh attack.

The officer said Vietnamese defenders of both posts were beating their way back to Son Tay through guerrilla infested territory inside the French defense line, northwest of Hanoi.

Thirty miles northeast of Hanoi the less than 100-man garrison at Camp Hulan stood off 500 Vietminh with the aid of low-flying planes that strafed, bombed and napalmed the attackers. A half dozen other small posts beat back Vietminh attackers yesterday and last night, the officer added.

FRENCH MOBILE battalions bivouacking in three small villages 16 to 20 miles southwest of Hanoi had little trouble tossing back Vietminh units that attacked during the night.

French bombers hit three guerrilla bases north of and half way along the vital Hanoi-Haipong supply route, dumped 50 to 70 tons of high explosives on Vietminh concentration areas along the northern Delta border, and another two tons on guerrilla-invested villages just north of Hung Yen, 25 miles southeast of Hanoi.

Small patrol fights sputtered in rice paddies turned to swamps and roads made ribbons of mud by torrential rains that drenched Hanoi and the Delta area.

Teenager Shot In Odd Mishap

A 15-year old Ashville Route 2 boy was accidentally shot in the right arm by his cousin at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Donald Lee Toole was taken to Mercy Hospital in Columbus with a .22 calibre cartridge in his upper right arm.

Deputy Sheriff Carl White, who investigated, said that Toole, his 11-year old brother Douglas and his 17-year old cousin Jimmy Toole were fishing on Walnut Creek west of Ashville. According to the report, Jimmy had ejected a shell from his .22 rifle and jammed the bolt back into position when the gun went off.

Deqty White said that the boys told him the safety catch on the rifle must have slipped thus allowing a new shell, which had been pushed into the chamber when the old one was ejected, to go off. They said Donald began to run in panic through a field after being hit and that Jimmy had to chase and catch him in order to apply a tourniquet on the arm to stop the flow of blood.

The bullet fractured Donald's arm, the deputy added.

Bernard A. Hite, 27, of Columbus was killed shortly before midnight when his vision was obscured by the storm and he ran his car off a county road and hit a tree.

Near Adena in Jefferson County, James Anthony, 12, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Benedict of Adena, was critically injured when a tree was knocked down by lightning and fell on his father's car.

Earlier, authorities blamed high temperatures for the death of a Columbus man. They said Alvin Minck, 31, died of heat prostration in the 104.4 degrees that hit the Ohio capital in the afternoon.

Cities plunged into darkness by power failures included Zanesville, Newark, parts of Columbus and Dennison.

Ten-year - old Glenda Arbaugh was wheeled into Newark City Hospital for an emergency appendectomy when lights went out. The operation was performed under flashlights. She is in good condition.

In Franklin County, where radio and telephone service was badly handicapped by the storm, firemen said they located fires by searching for bright spots in the sky. Lightning set many barns afire.

Among the injured were:

An unidentified mother and two children, aged three years and 18 months, when their house trailer was upset near Springfield.

Ellis Reed of near Marietta, was burned when he rushed into a barn in attempts to save machinery when the barn was fired by a lightning bolt.

The storm followed a day of blistering heat with the mercury scooting past 100 over much of the state. Some of the readings included 106 in Portsmouth and 105 in Logan.

The mercury hit a sizzling 120 degrees in Fort Scott, Kan., before the cooler air began moving into that state. Temperatures of 100 degrees or higher were common from Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas east to the Atlantic.

Thousands of baby chicks died from the heat in Arkansas. The Arkansas Poultry Federation said the state's poultry industry may suffer its worst baby-chick shortage in history.

7 Yankee GIs Get Freedom From Czechs

WAIDHAUS, Germany (AP)—Seven American soldiers held in Communist Czechoslovakia since American Independence Day, crossed the border to freedom today at noon after 12 days in captivity.

The six enlisted men and a captain were turned over at this West German-Czech border point.

They were met by a detachment from the U. S. 2nd Armored Cavalry, which is stationed along the East-West frontier.

U. S. Army authorities said the men appeared to be in "good condition" and that they reported "the food was good." No other statement was available.

Capt. Jack M. Davis, the battalion surgeon, Raytown, Mo.; Cpl. John F. Glasson, Oakdale, Calif.; Pfc. Jerry W. Griffith, Springfield, Ohio; Pfc. George Switzer, Milburn, Neb.; Pfc. Leonard D. Tennis, Alliance, Ohio; Pvt. Richard J. Jumper Boonville, Mo., and Pvt. Ross F. McGinnis, Greensburg, Pa.

The Americans had driven to the Czech border in a weapons carrier truck July 4. As they neared the poorly defined frontier, they stopped a German and asked him where they could find the demarcation line.

The German later told police he had warned them to be careful, but that they drove on. Later border patrols found the abandoned Army vehicle near the border on the German side.

Allies Finding 'New Unity,' Dulles Reports

States of its principles. Eisenhower and Dulles have repeatedly stated that the United States would not sanction any Red conquest.

Meanwhile, in Geneva, France and Britain, elated by new support from the United States, opened the showdown phase of negotiations with the Communists aimed at ending the Indochina war.

Mendes-France and Eden reportedly feel the Eisenhower administration's decision to resume a major role in the Geneva talks has boosted chances of getting an Indochina cease-fire before July 20. Mendes-France has promised to resign if he fails to get a peace agreement by that date.

The French and British leaders flew back here yesterday after a quick meeting in Paris with Dulles which produced the U. S. decision to send Smith back to Geneva.

Eden conferred with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov last night and got him to agree to continue private huddles until Smith gets here.

France and Britain appeared agreed on trying to negotiate a truce by dividing Viet Nam, largest of the three Indochina states and main war arena between the Communist - led Vietminh and French Union forces.

DULLES HAS frowned on such a partition plan. He and Smith had stayed away from Geneva to avoid associating the United States with a settlement giving the Communist domination of important northern Indochina areas, possibly including the city of Hanoi.

There was no confirmation that Dulles, as a result of his Paris talks with Mendes-France and Eden, liked the idea of an Indochina partition any better.

Expansion Of State Parole System Sought By Director

COLUMBUS (AP) — Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, is looking for money that will let him expand the state parole system.

The chief of the Division of Corrections, M. C. Koblentz, today told the director he would like to add more parole officers to reduce the work load of 48 officers in the field and three at institutions. He outlined a program that would cost about $35,000 a year.

Some parole officers now look after more than 100 cases.

Dr. Porterfield said he may have to go to the state controlling board in his search for funds. "I'm looking over our budget now to try to find the money some place," he said.

"We don't have the additional amount needed in this year's appropriation, but there may be some 'pockets' of money that could be used."

The "pockets," he explained, could be either unused funds for other items or money that has been set aside for other activities which the department doesn't think it will spend entirely.

"I'M IN THE process of finding out where those 'pockets' are," said Dr. Porterfield, who recently took over the direction of the department.

In most cases, he said, the controlling board would have to act on a request to transfer funds.

Glenn R. Kloppenstein, chief of the Bureau of Probation and Parole, said the amount Koblentz asked would be enough to hire about nine more parole officers but would leave little for their expenses. The starting salary for such a job is $300 a month.

Koblentz feels parole officers could be doing better jobs of rehabilitating former prisoners if each had fewer cases.

Some parole officers cover a number of counties, while thickly populated Cuyahoga County needs the services of 10 officers.

Both Dr. Porterfield and Kloppenstein emphasied that if more parole officers are hired, they want men qualified to deal with problems of paroled prisoners.

"We need men who will be sympathetic toward the parolees," Dr. Porterfield said, "not just officers who will be looking for a chance to slap parolees back in prison."

"If we can pick our own people instead of having to hire men sent to us, we can get some pretty good men," said Kloppenstein. "Our qualifications are high. When I told a friend what we demanded for a starting salary of $300 a month, he said 'If you find any, send them over to me and I'll hire them at $10,000 a year.' "

Employes at the recorder's office said the deed was filed by Melvin Yates. Crites, immediately prior to the Council meeting, said he learned of the filing of the deed from Attorney Tom Renick. He first gave the impression Renick himself had filed the deed, but later explained this was merely an assumption.

It proved to be erroneous.

Crites also said before and during the Council meeting that Renick had acted for the Container Corporation in reference to handling the deed. Drawing it up originally, however, was his "own idea", Crites said.

In the light of information available Thursday, it was not clear how Crites connected Renick even indirectly with filing of the deed. Renick meanwhile said he had no statement at this time for publication.

States-Righter Voted Top Governors Conference Post

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y. (AP)—A staunch states-righter and a Democratic supporter of President Eisenhower, Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, heads the Governors Conference for a year that may bring some significant changes in relations of the states with the federal government.

Kennon was elected chairman to succeed Republican Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado at the final session here yesterday.

The group approved a resolution calling for a survey of road needs in connection with Eisenhower's proposed 10-year, $50 billion highway construction program.

Although the members avoid all outward appearances of politics and alternate the chairmanship between Republicans and Democrats, the choice of Kennon as titular head for the next 12 months was regarded in some quarters as indicating widespread support for Eisenhower.

Kennon is known to have had the backing of Gov. James F. Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat who announced here that he is continuing the support he gave Eisenhower in the 1952 presidential campaign.

KENNON IS an advocate of increased state control over road building, an issue that may come to a head in a projected postelection conference of the governors with Eisenhower.

The Louisiana governor told his colleagues he believes there should be "maximum state and local control and maximum interstate and federal cooperation" in highway construction.

Most of the governors made it clear they would like to have the federal government get out of the field of gasoline and fuel oil taxes, leaving these to the states to finance highway work on their own.

But the President's proposal for a vast system of coast-to-coast superhighways appeared to call for federal direction in linking these up and the governors knew it, even though they were reluctant to admit it publicly.

The upshot of three days of discussion of the issue was adoption of a resolution calling for a study of highway needs which could be laid before Eisenhower later.

If the governors can come up with some plan to let the states control the construction of such a system, many of them will feel that they have taken a significant step toward regaining some of the powers the states have lost to the federal government.

Fuel Gas Pipeline Expansion Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus, Ohio, has asked authority to expand its pipelines 46 miles in Ohio counties that would include Hocking, Jackson, Vinton and Fairfield.

It also asked the power commission for permission to add 3,000 compressor horsepower to its pipeline system. The $3,832,700 project would let the company receive additional natural gas from its Columbia Gas System affiliate, United Fuel Gas Co. at Charleston.

The company plans to build 17 miles of 20-inch pipe and 29 miles of 24-inch pipeline along existing lines in the four counties.

Farmers Urged To Probe Unknown

COLUMBUS (AP)—A man who says he has spent 35 years trying to discover why grass is green yesterday urged farm leaders here to explore the multitude of things not known.

The speaker was Dr. Charles F. Kettering industrial research director for General Motors Corp., who addressed the American Farm Research Assn. here at Ohio State University. He said:

"You are going to spend all the rest of your life in the future. We cannot become egotistical about the things we know and exclude the multitude of things we do not know."

for Brown. The deputy said he had to remove four fallen trees before he could get to the farm house.

DEPUTY WHITE and Deputy Walter Richards were in the area until the early hours of the morning. Deputy Richards earlier had asked the Ashville Fire Department to stand by and relay messages for the sheriff. He said the fire truck, which is hooked up with the sheriff's radio, stayed on duty almost all night.

Contact with deputies White and Richards was kept by Deputy Dwight Radcliff from a car in front of the jail house. Since the transmitter was knocked out, the only radio contact was car to car.

Deputy Richards reported that Route 764, the north-south county line road, was closed until early morning because of fallen trees. He said trucks from the county engineer's office were at work all night. Some roads are still not clear he added.

Motorist Walks Off After Crash

Richard Durrett, 19, of Commercial Point, escaped serious injury Wednesday night when his car went through a small bridge and dropped 10 feet into a dry creek bed. Durrett walked away from the accident although he had bruised legs, according to Deputy Sheriff Carl White, who said he was not called until almost an hour after the accident.

Durrett told the deputy that he had been blinded by lights from an oncoming car on Hoover Rd., northwest of Commercial Point. Deputy White said the car tore all the guard rail off the right side of the bridge before dropping into the creek bed.

French Lose 2 Outposts To Rebel Forces

Monsoon Rains Come To Indochina Delta As Fighting Continues

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Two French defense outposts fell before Vietminh attackers as monsoon rains came to the Red River Delta yesterday and last night.

Vietnamese defenders abandoned the post of Chiquan, 25 miles west of Hanoi, after a brief fight against 400 to 500 Vietminh attackers, a French briefing officer reported.

Thirty-five miles northwest of Hanoi, a second small post on the edge of Delta defenses fell under another Vietminh attack.

The officer said Vietnamese defenders of both posts were beating their way back to Son Tay through guerrilla infested territory inside the French defense line, northwest of Hanoi.

Thirty miles northeast of Hanoi the less than 100-man garrison at Camp Hulan stood off 500 Vietminh with the aid of low-flying planes that strafed, bombed and napalmed the attackers. A half dozen other small posts beat back Vietminh attackers yesterday and last night, the officer added.

FRENCH MOBILE battalions bivouacking in three small villages 16 to 20 miles southwest of Hanoi had little trouble tossing back Vietminh units that attacked during the night.

French bombers hit three guerrilla bases north of and half way along the vital Hanoi-Haipong supply route, dumped 50 to 70 tons of high explosives on Vietminh concentration areas along the northern Delta border, and another two tons on guerrilla-invested villages just north of Hung Yen, 25 miles southeast of Hanoi.

Small patrol fights sputtered in rice paddies turned to swamps and roads made ribbons of mud by torrential rains that drenched Hanoi and the Delta area.

his way through the storm to help extinguish a barn fire set by lightning.

Bernard A. Hite, 27, of Columbus was killed shortly before midnight when his vision was obscured by the storm and he ran his car off a county road and hit a tree.

Near Adena in Jefferson County, James Anthony, 12, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Benedict of Adena, was critically injured when a tree was knocked down by lightning and fell on his father's car.

Earlier, authorities blamed high temperatures for the death of a Columbus man. They said Alvin Minck, 31, died of heat prostration in the 104.4 degrees that hit the Ohio capital in the afternoon.

Cities plunged into darkness by power failures included Zanesville, Newark, parts of Columbus and Dennison.

Ten-year - old Glenda Arbaugh was wheeled into Newark City Hospital for an emergency appendectomy when lights went out. The operation was performed under flashlights. She is in good condition.

In Franklin County, where radio and telephone service was badly handicapped by the storm, firemen said they located fires by searching for bright spots in the sky. Lightning set many barns afire.

Among the injured were:

An unidentified mother and two children, aged three years and 18 months, when their house trailer was upset near Springfield.

V. E. NEFF, 70, and his daughter, Mrs. Helen Yoho, 50, of Canton, when a falling tree struck them near Zanesville. He received a fractured collarbone, Mrs. Yoho a broken back.

A woman and two children, when lightning struck a Zanesville home causing the roof to cave in. They were Anna Cain, 22; Robert Brown, 15, and Curtis Cain, 9.

Ellis Reed of near Marietta, was burned when he rushed into a barn in attempts to save machinery when the barn was fired by a lightning bolt.

The storm followed a day of blistering heat with the mercury scooting past 100 over much of the state. Some of the readings included 106 in Portsmouth and 105 in Logan.

The mercury hit a sizzling 120 degrees in Fort Scott, Kan., before the cooler air began moving into that state. Temperatures of 100 degrees or higher were common from Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas east to the Atlantic.

Thousands of baby chicks died from the heat in Arkansas. The Arkansas Poultry Federation said the state's poultry industry may suffer its worst baby-chick shortage in history.

Volunteers responded to an appeal to help save the lives of feeble minded patients at the state training school in Winfield, Kan.

SOME MONGOLIAN - type patients are supersensitive to the heat because of deficiency in a gland that acts as a sort of thermostat in the body. They had to be packed in ice or otherwise externally cooled. Eleven patients have died in Kansas mental institutions this week.

Even tropical plants at the Missouri Botanical Garden in St. Louis withered.

An automatic sprinkler system went into action in a suburban St. Louis can factory when the temperature reached 165 degrees in the firm's attic. Workers were drenched and the office flooded.

The number of heat deaths rose to 96. Missouri had 29.

These all-time high temperatures were recorded: St. Louis, 112; Springfield, Ill., 114; Columbia, Mo., 113; and Tulsa, Okla., 112.

Teenager Shot In Odd Mishap

A 15-year old Ashville Route 2 boy was accidentally shot in the right arm by his cousin at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Donald Lee Toole was taken to Mercy Hospital in Columbus with a .22 calibre cartridge in his upper right arm.

Deputy Sheriff Carl White, who investigated, said that Toole, his 11-year old brother Douglas and his 17-year old cousin Jimmy Toole were fishing on Walnut Creek west of Ashville. According to the report, Jimmy had ejected a shell from his .22 rifle and jammed the bolt back into position when the gun went off.

Deqty White said that the boys told him the safety catch on the rifle must have slipped thus allowing a new shell, which had been pushed into the chamber when the old one was ejected, to go off. They said Donald began to run in panic through a field after being hit and that Jimmy had to chase and catch him in order to apply a tourniquet on the arm to stop the flow of blood.

The bullet fractured Donald's arm, the deputy added.

Pilot Strike Decried

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Mediation Board asked the Air Line Pilots Assn. today to postpone its threatened strike against American Airlines tonight.

THE REGIME of President Jose Figueres, of Costa Rica, shown with his wife in San Jose, is believed in danger of a revolt similar to that staged in Guatemala. The government ordered security precautions following persistent rumors that members of the old Calderone Party, overthrown by Figueres, were planning an early invasion.

7 Yankee GIs Get Freedom From Czechs

WAIDHAUS, Germany (AP)—Seven American soldiers held in Communist Czechoslovakia since American Independence Day, crossed the border to freedom today at noon after 12 days in captivity.

The six enlisted men and a captain were turned over at this West German-Czech border point.

They were met by a detachment from the U. S. 2nd Armored Cavalry, which is stationed along the East-West frontier.

U. S. Army authorities said the men appeared to be in "good condition" and that they reported "the food was good." No other statement was available.

The seven, members of the 816th Field Artillery Battalion, are:

Capt. Jack M. Davis, the battalion surgeon, Raytown, Mo.; Cpl. John F. Glasson, Oakdale, Calif.; Pfc. Jerry W. Griffith, Springfield, Ohio; Pfc. George Switzer, Milburn, Neb.; Pfc. Leonard D. Tennis, Alliance, Ohio; Pvt. Richard J. Jumper Boonville, Mo., and Pvt. Ross F. McGinnis, Greensburg, Pa.

The Americans had driven to the Czech border in a weapons carrier truck July 4. As they neared the poorly defined frontier, they stopped a German and asked him where they could find the demarcation line.

The German later told police he had warned them to be careful, but that they drove on. Later border patrols found the abandoned Army vehicle near the border on the German side.

Among the 700 NROTC midshipmen from 25 colleges and universities on a three-week training cruise at the Naval Air Station in Corpus Cristi, Texas, is Gordon N. Blake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Blake of 141 W. Franklin St. He is a student at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C.

While at the station the midshipmen will receive instruction in all phases of naval aviation, including flights in a single-engine trainer. In off-duty hours students will be guests of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce at a series of dances and social gatherings.

After completing the training here, the group will receive instruction in amphibious warfare at Little Creek, Va.

Allies Finding 'New Unity,' Dulles Reports

States of its principles. Eisenhower and Dulles have repeatedly stated that the United States would not sanction any Red conquest.

Meanwhile, in Geneva, France and Britain, elated by new support from the United States, opened the showdown phase of negotiations with the Communists aimed at ending the Indochina war.

Mendes-France and Eden reportedly feel the Eisenhower administration's decision to resume a major role in the Geneva talks has boosted chances of getting an Indochina cease-fire before July 20. Mendes-France has promised to resign if he fails to get a peace agreement by that date.

The French and British leaders flew back here yesterday after a quick meeting in Paris with Dulles which produced the U. S. decision to send Smith back to Geneva.

Eden conferred with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov last night and got him to agree to continue private huddles until Smith gets here.

France and Britain appeared agreed on trying to negotiate a truce by dividing Viet Nam, largest of the three Indochina states and main war arena between the Communist - led Vietminh and French Union forces.

DULLES HAS frowned on such a partition plan. He and Smith had stayed away from Geneva to avoid associating the United States with a settlement giving the Communist domination of important northern Indochina areas, possibly including the city of Hanoi.

There was no confirmation that Dulles, as a result of his Paris talks with Mendes-France and Eden, liked the idea of an Indochina partition any better.

States-Righter Voted Top Governors Conference Post

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y. (AP)—A staunch states-righter and a Democratic supporter of President Eisenhower, Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, heads the Governors Conference for a year that may bring some significant changes in relations of the states with the federal government.

Kennon was elected chairman to succeed Republican Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado at the final session here yesterday.

The group approved a resolution calling for a survey of road needs in connection with Eisenhower's proposed 10-year, $50 billion highway construction program.

Although the members avoid all outward appearances of politics and alternate the chairmanship between Republicans and Democrats, the choice of Kennon as titular head for the next 12 months was regarded in some quarters as indicating widespread support for Eisenhower.

Kennon is known to have had the backing of Gov. James F. Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat who announced here that he is continuing the support he gave Eisenhower in the 1952 presidential campaign.

KENNON IS an advocate of increased state control over road building, an issue that may come to a head in a projected postelection conference of the governors with Eisenhower.

The Louisiana governor told his colleagues he believes there should be "maximum state and local control and maximum interstate and federal cooperation" in highway construction.

Most of the governors made it clear they would like to have the federal government get out of the field of gasoline and fuel oil taxes, leaving these to the states to finance highway work on their own.

But the President's proposal for a vast system of coast-to-coast superhighways appeared to call for federal direction in linking these up and the governors knew it, even though they were reluctant to admit it publicly.

The upshot of three days of discussion of the issue was adoption of a resolution calling for a study of highway needs which could be laid before Eisenhower later.

If the governors can come up with some plan to let the states control the construction of such a system, many of them will feel that they have taken a significant step toward regaining some of the powers the states have lost to the federal government.

Expansion Of State Parole System Sought By Director

COLUMBUS (AP) — Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, is looking for money that will let him expand the state parole system.

The chief of the Division of Corrections, M. C. Koblentz, today told the director he would like to add more parole officers to reduce the work load of 48 officers in the field and three at institutions. He outlined a program that would cost about $35,000 a year.

Some parole officers now look after more than 100 cases.

Dr. Porterfield said he may have to go to the state controlling board in his search for funds. "I'm looking over our budget now to try to find the money some place," he said.

"We don't have the additional amount needed in this year's appropriation, but there may be some 'pockets' of money that could be used."

The "pockets," he explained, could be either unused funds for other items or money that has been set aside for other activities which the department doesn't think it will spend entirely.

"I'M IN THE process of finding out where those 'pockets' are," said Dr. Porterfield, who recently took over the direction of the department.

In most cases, he said, the controlling board would have to act on a request to transfer funds.

Glenn R. Kloppenstein, chief of the Bureau of Probation and Parole, said the amount Koblentz asked would be enough to hire about nine more parole officers but would leave little for their expenses. The starting salary for such a job is $300 a month.

Koblentz feels parole officers could be doing better jobs of rehabilitating former prisoners if each had fewer cases.

Some parole officers cover a number of counties, while thickly populated Cuyahoga County needs the services of 10 officers.

Both Dr. Porterfield and Kloppenstein emphasied that if more parole officers are hired, they want men qualified to deal with problems of paroled prisoners.

"We need men who will be sympathetic toward the parolees," Dr. Porterfield said, "not just officers who will be looking for a chance to slap parolees back in prison."

"If we can pick our own people instead of having to hire men sent to us, we can get some pretty good men," said Kloppenstein. "Our qualifications are high. When I told a friend what we demanded for a starting salary of $300 a month, he said 'If you find any, send them over to me and I'll hire them at $10,000 a year.' "

Fuel Gas Pipeline Expansion Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. of Columbus, Ohio, has asked authority to expand its pipelines 46 miles in Ohio counties that would include Hocking, Jackson, Vinton and Fairfield.

It also asked the power commission for permission to add 3,000 compressor horsepower to its pipeline system. The $3,832,700 project would let the company receive additional natural gas from its Columbia Gas System affiliate, United Fuel Gas Co. at Charleston.

The company plans to build 17 miles of 20-inch pipe and 29 miles of 24-inch pipeline along existing lines in the four counties.

Farmers Urged To Probe Unknown

COLUMBUS (AP)—A man who says he has spent 35 years trying to discover why grass is green yesterday urged farm leaders here to explore the multitude of things not known.

The speaker was Dr. Charles F. Kettering industrial research director for General Motors Corp., who addressed the American Farm Research Assn. here at Ohio State University. He said:

"You are going to spend all the rest of your life in the future. We cannot become egotistical about the things we know and exclude the multitude of things we do not know."

for Brown. The deputy said he had to remove four fallen trees before he could get to the farm house.

DEPUTY WHITE and Deputy Walter Richards were in the area until the early hours of the morning. Deputy Richards earlier had asked the Ashville Fire Department to stand by and relay messages for the sheriff. He said the fire truck, which is hooked up with the sheriff's radio, stayed on duty almost all night.

Contact with deputies White and Richards was kept by Deputy Dwight Radcliff from a car in front of the jail house. Since the transmitter was knocked out, the only radio contact was car to car.

Deputy Richards reported that Route 764, the north-south county line road, was closed until early morning because of fallen trees. He said trucks from the county engineer's office were at work all night. Some roads are still not clear he added.

Motorist Walks Off After Crash

Richard Durrett, 19, of Commercial Point, escaped serious injury Wednesday night when his car went through a small bridge and dropped 10 feet into a dry creek bed. Durrett walked away from the accident although he had bruised legs, according to Deputy Sheriff Carl White, who said he was not called until almost an hour after the accident.

Durrett told the deputy that he had been blinded by lights from an oncoming car on Hoover Rd., northwest of Commercial Point. Deputy White said the car tore all the guard rail off the right side of the bridge before dropping into the creek bed.

U.S. Citizens Saving More Than Ever

Statistics Show This Year Better Than Last For Filling Old Sock

NEW YORK (AP)—People are going right on saving—it says here in the statistics put out by the government, the bankers, and the life insurance people.

It's hard for a lot of people to believe that any one can save in these days of the high cost of living, of big baby crops and larger families, of high taxes, of a business slowdown and lower take-home pay for many.

But figures released this week show that by and large Americans are putting as much or more away this year than last and that total savings continue to rise. It's going into U. S. savings bonds, into life insurance, bank deposits. Total for all of them are rising.

And merchants will tell you—some of them rather sadely—that many consumers are putting a reverse English on saving, too. They are paying up their installment debts faster than they are taking on new debt by buying gadgets on time. Getting out of debt is one form of saving. Merchants think this can be carried too far.

There are other forms of saving which a man may not realize he's making.

"I can't save anything," a man will tell you. "After I've made the life insurance payment, paid the monthly installment on the mortgage on my house, put money each month in that fund that the wife insists we have against the time junior goes to college, why, I have a hard time finding enough to meet the payment on the car and the freezer."

But life insurance is a form of saving, a way of building an estate. A home of your own is a form of saving.

The U. S. Treasury reports that in the first half of this year of supposed recession it sold 13 per cent more in E and H savings bonds than in the same period of booming 1953, and, in fact, set an eight-year sales record. And sales are exceeding cash-ins.

Deposits in the savings banks of New York state alone increased 393 million dollars in the first half of this year.

The Institute of Life Insurance reports record purchases of new life insurance policies in the first six months of this year for a gain of 18½ billion dollars. The total of such insurance is now estimated at 319 billon dollars for the nation as a whole.

Accident and health insurance purchases are also running much higher than a year ago.

All of this is being done, curiously enough, on a lower total of personal income, according to the Department of Commerce. It finds that in May, its latest figure, personal income totaled about one billion dollars less, on an annual rate, than in May a year ago.

The increase in savings reported so far this year also comes on top of an increase the year before. The department puts total savings by individuals in 1953 at 20 billion dollars, a gain of 1½ billion over 1952.

The fact that consumers this year so far have been reducing their total of installment and other consumer credit is counted as a form of saving. Many manufacturers and merchants think that the public is now about ready to reverse this process and start buying more on time again.

For one thing, the Commerce Department reports that for the first time since last July the total of personal income showed a gain over the previous month.

Merchants hope the increased income will go going into purchases rather than into savings.

Boy's Tank Ride Brings Lawsuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles Brunetti, 14, gladly took advantage of a visitors' day offer to ride in an Army tank at Camp Hunter Liggett last July 31.

Recently, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Brunetti, filed suit asking $100,000 damages from the government. She charged Charles suffered a permanent brain injury when bounced against the tank's steel turret.

Three Brother Teams With Co. I Soon To Close Summer Training

Three brother teams are included in Company I of the 166th Regimental Combat Team, Circleville's unit of the Ohio National Guard which will soon close its annual two-week training camp at Indiantown Gap, Pa.

Among the local Guardsmen at the big eastern Pennsylvania military reservation are Sgts. Harold and William Haddox, M-Sgt. Walter D. and Sgt. Donald W Gilmore, and Cpls. Ralph and Charles Wolf.

Capt. John McGinnis is company commander.

Many members of the ONG took their wives and families with them for their sumemr outing. Living quarters are available in the region and a number of Pennsylvania's historic sites are within easy distance from Indiantown Gap. Famed Gettysburg Battlefield attracts a vast army of sightseers each Summer.

THE MEN in training at "The Gap", meanwhile, live in barracks with soldiers from their own home town, one of several advantages frequently stressed for prospective Guard recruits. This Summer, the Circleville unit's personnel is included in the 3,300 Guardsmen who will wind up their annual camp next week-end.

Second Army inspectors, who check the training program daily, have passed out many "excellent" ratings to outfits from the Buckeye State. And while the Guardsmen put in a full day on the firing ranges and at their regular military jobs, time is also arranged for off-duty softball, swimming, and other recreational activities.

Walter D. Gilmore; Donald S. Layton; William M. Andrews; Albert J. Leiseth; Robert E. Leist; Loren E. Richardson; Gerald H. Spangler; Robert Wilkinson Jr.; Maynard L. Burns; Ralph D. Coleman Jr.; Donald W. Gilmore; Harold A. Haddox; William S. Haddox.

Robert C. Sensenbrenner; Herbert Y. Short; Joseph B. Sweazy; Donald V. Thompson; Charles R. Wolfe; Ralph T Wolfe; William R. Woods; Thomas E. Calton; Robert D. Downs; John A. Hinton; Jack E. McCain; George H. Peters.

'Cool' Vendor Dies

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — One case of heat prostration was reported yesterday. The victim was an ice cream salesman, L. M. Duckworth.

4-H Members Preparing To Attend Camp

A total of 185 Pickaway County 4-H members plan to attend the annual 4-H camp at Tar Hollow. These 4-H members will attend at different times, the younger members from July 19 to July 23 and the older members from July 26 to July 30. 4-H members from Ross County will also be in attendance at the same time.

Many activities are being planned for this year's camp. Nature and conservation work will be handled by Emil Haney. The agents and counsellors from Ross and Pickaway counties will be in charge of the craft work which includes lamps, lanyards, leather work, and 4-H signs. Instruction will be given in both beginning and advance swimming.

Indoor recreation will be handled by Ronnie Culp, Barbara Culp, an David Dowler. Rosemary Wright and Charles Brown will be in charge of the camp fires, and Carol Rice in charge of the Vespers. Outdoor recreation will consist of softball, vollyball, box hockey, and teeter ball.

The campers will be divided up into four tribes at camp. There will be competition between tribes for the best stunts, songs, challenges, and stories at the campfire. There will be a chief for each tribe and a big chief for the camp.

DALE GLASS, the associate county agent from Ross County, is program director for the camp. Other agents who will be at the camp include Lois Waston from Ross County, and Larry Best, Leora Sayre and Marion Kroetz from Pickaway County.

A counsellor training program will be held on Sunday and Monday July 18 and 19. Counsellors from Fairfield, Ross, Hocking, and Pickaway Counties will be in attendance. The purpose of the two day program is to familiarize the counsellors with their duties and to give them a philosophy of 4-H camping. Jimmy Patterson, chief ranger at Tar Hollow, will be present at the counsellor training program to answer questions about camp.

Three Brother Teams With Co. I Soon To Close Summer Training

Three brother teams are included in Company I of the 166th Regimental Combat Team, Circleville's unit of the Ohio National Guard which will soon close its annual two-week training camp at Indiantown Gap, Pa.

Among the local Guardsmen at the big eastern Pennsylvania military reservation are Sgts. Harold and William Haddox, M-Sgt. Walter D. and Sgt. Donald W Gilmore, and Cpls. Ralph and Charles Wolf.

Capt. John McGinnis is company commander.

Many members of the ONG took their wives and families with them for their sumemr outing. Living quarters are available in the region and a number of Pennsylvania's historic sites are within easy distance from Indiantown Gap. Famed Gettysburg Battlefield attracts a vast army of sightseers each Summer.

THE MEN in training at "The Gap", meanwhile, live in barracks with soldiers from their own home town, one of several advantages frequently stressed for prospective Guard recruits. This Summer, the Circleville unit's personnel is included in the 3,300 Guardsmen who will wind up their annual camp next week-end.

Second Army inspectors, who check the training program daily, have passed out many "excellent" ratings to outfits from the Buckeye State. And while the Guardsmen put in a full day on the firing ranges and at their regular military jobs, time is also arranged for off-duty softball, swimming, and other recreational activities.

Walter D. Gilmore; Donald S. Layton; William M. Andrews; Albert J. Leiseth; Robert E. Leist; Loren E. Richardson; Gerald H. Spangler; Robert Wilkinson Jr.; Maynard L. Burns; Ralph D. Coleman Jr.; Donald W. Gilmore; Harold A. Haddox; William S. Haddox.

Robert C. Sensenbrenner; Herbert Y. Short; Joseph B. Sweazy; Donald V. Thompson; Charles R. Wolfe; Ralph T Wolfe; William R. Woods; Thomas E. Calton; Robert D. Downs; John A. Hinton; Jack E. McCain; George H. Peters.

Lee A. Risley; Dale A. Rogers; William E. Rowland; Lawrence W. Smith; Roy D. Ward; Joseph L. Woodrum; Jesse J. Cotton; Raymond E. Cotton; Jay L. Curry; Jim F. Duvall.

Donald Fyffe; Charles L. Gardner; Francis M. Hartley; Daniel L. Hastings; Ronald E. Leadingham; Forrest E. Martin; Curtis Reed Jr.; Ronald Watson; William K. Artrip; Stanley A. Crosby; William Y. Harrington; Rollie K. Tigner.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — One case of heat prostration was reported yesterday. The victim was an ice cream salesman, L. M. Duckworth.

4-H Members Preparing To Attend Camp

A total of 185 Pickaway County 4-H members plan to attend the annual 4-H camp at Tar Hollow. These 4-H members will attend at different times, the younger members from July 19 to July 23 and the older members from July 26 to July 30. 4-H members from Ross County will also be in attendance at the same time.

Many activities are being planned for this year's camp. Nature and conservation work will be handled by Emil Haney. The agents and counsellors from Ross and Pickaway counties will be in charge of the craft work which includes lamps, lanyards, leather work, and 4-H signs. Instruction will be given in both beginning and advance swimming.

Indoor recreation will be handled by Ronnie Culp, Barbara Culp, an David Dowler. Rosemary Wright and Charles Brown will be in charge of the camp fires, and Carol Rice in charge of the Vespers. Outdoor recreation will consist of softball, vollyball, box hockey, and teeter ball.

The campers will be divided up into four tribes at camp. There will be competition between tribes for the best stunts, songs, challenges, and stories at the campfire. There will be a chief for each tribe and a big chief for the camp.

Crime Themes On Increase On TV Shows

Kids Entertainment Given Close Study To Determine New Trend

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Assn. for Better Radio and Television reported today that crime themes have become more dominant this year than ever before in television programs for children.

"Murder, torture, sadism, morbid suspense and other fear and tension inducing elements are saturating children's minds and physical senses to a degree never before experienced by any generation," the association said in its fourth annual report on children's radio and television programs.

"Television, more than any other medium, is responsible for this crime deluge.

"Programs which use crime as their basic story theme have always dominated children's TV programming, but at first these crime programs were mostly inherited from the theatrical film industry. Today, crime programs for children are being produced specifically for television in a volume approximately four times greater than in 1951.

"During the period of our 1954 survey, 29 children's crime programs (20 different series) produced on film for TV were being televised each week by the seven stations in Los Angeles. In 1951 there were five such series: in 1952 there were nine; and in 1953 there were 15. This crime programming is preserved on film for distribution and redistribution throughout the United States and other countries."

Based on surveys made by an evaluation committee, the association listed children's TV programs fair, poor, objectionable, and most objectionable. Listed as excellent were: Adventures of Blinkey, Campus Farmers, Contest Carnival, Ding Dong School, Kukla, Fran and Ollie, Little School House, Mr. Wizard, Super Circus, The Princess, Who Knows This Winky Dink and You, Youth Takes a Stand, Youth Wants to Know and Zoo Parade.

Listed as "most objectionable" were Captain Midnight, Captain Video, Dick Tracy, Eastside Kids and Ramar of the Jungle.

The association is a nonprofit corporation founded in 1949 by Mrs. Clara S. Logan, wife of a Los Angeles dentist. Lee de Forest, radio pioneer, is a member of the Board of Directors. Members of the association include many educators, scientists and ministers.

'Forgotten Men' In Prison Slated To Get New Trials

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two convicts, "forgotten men" for almost a decade, have won a new trial after spending more than 13 years in prison.

They received the new chance on their claim that they did not have the benefit of legal advice in the original hearing back in 1941.

For a while in 1945 and 1946 it looked as if they might get a new trial. Then confusion and a quarrel between courts closed the state penitentiary gates once again.

Years went by until a sympathetic lawyer intervened to give them a new chance.

Here's the story:

Joseph Montgomery, then 21, and Lawrence E. Young, 23, were charged 13 years ago with kidnaping, first-degree robbery and car theft in St. Francois County, Mo. They admitted in court they got drunk and took a man in his automobile to St. Louis.

On their pleas of guilty, the St. Francois County Circuit Court judge sentenced each to life imprisonment on the robbery and kidnaping charges and five years for car theft. The judge, Frank Fenwick, has been dead for many years now.

After four years in the state Penitentiary here, Montgomery and Young hired a lawyer and filed a plea for release in the Cole County Circuit Court. Circuit Judge S. C. Blair, upon being told the men did not have an attorney in their original hearing, ordered them returned to St. Francois County "to be dealt with according to law."

But the St. Francois County judge, Norwin D. Houser at that time, said one circuit court couldn't undo the action of another circuit court. He said the record of the St. Francois court stood unblemished and ordered Montgomery and Young back to prison.

At first, prison officials wouldn't take them because two contrary circuit court decisions hung over the men. here was no prison commitment order by which they could be held as convicts once again.

Finally penitentiary officials put them in receiving cells — the separate quarters for new prisoners. They stayed there six months with no action taken either for or against them. Then prison authorities classified them for work in prison shops and for more than eight years they were forgotten men.

A few months ago Sam Haley, Jefferson City lawyer, heard about the case from inside the prison. He appealed to the Federal District Court in Kansas City.

Federal Judge Richard M. Duncan upheld Circuit Judge Blair's order that they be sent back to St. Francois County for a new trial.

Said Haley:

"They may come back to prison, but they have a right to a fair hearing in court first."

Burglar Uses Firemen's Pole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A burglar found that shiny brass pole in a Columbus firehouse the means for a quick exit.

Fire Lt. Thomas Curran said he awakened and saw a man at the foot of his bed. He shouted at him and the man slid quickly down the pole and fled.

The intruder had stolen about $76 from the pockets of sleeping firemen.

2nd Life Taken

DAYTON (AP)—The second fatality of a crash between a fire chief's car and a ladder truck was recorded here last night with the death of Miss Dorothy Frahn, 59, of Dayton. District Fire Chief Bernard J. Schaeff died in the crash Monday; 23 persons, including bystanders, were injured.

Haste Brings Death

Hippo Shuns Try To Find Weight

NEW YORK (AP)—A weighty problem went unresolved today at the Bronx Zoo; how heavy is hippo Peter II?

Keeper Bob Montana set up a hippo-size scale and loaded it down with lures, such as vegetables.

Peter II got his front feet up on the scale, paused, munched, turned contemptuously away.

His weight is somewhere between 500 and 700 pounds, plus that of the goodies he got for doing nothing.

'Forgotten Men' In Prison Slated To Get New Trials

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two convicts, "forgotten men" for almost a decade, have won a new trial after spending more than 13 years in prison.

They received the new chance on their claim that they did not have the benefit of legal advice in the original hearing back in 1941.

For a while in 1945 and 1946 it looked as if they might get a new trial. Then confusion and a quarrel between courts closed the state penitentiary gates once again.

Years went by until a sympathetic lawyer intervened to give them a new chance.

Here's the story:

Joseph Montgomery, then 21, and Lawrence E. Young, 23, were charged 13 years ago with kidnaping, first-degree robbery and car theft in St. Francois County, Mo. They admitted in court they got drunk and took a man in his automobile to St. Louis.

On their pleas of guilty, the St. Francois County Circuit Court judge sentenced each to life imprisonment on the robbery and kidnaping charges and five years for car theft. The judge, Frank Fenwick, has been dead for many years now.

After four years in the state Penitentiary here, Montgomery and Young hired a lawyer and filed a plea for release in the Cole County Circuit Court. Circuit Judge S. C. Blair, upon being told the men did not have an attorney in their original hearing, ordered them returned to St. Francois County "to be dealt with according to law."

But the St. Francois County judge, Norwin D. Houser at that time, said one circuit court couldn't undo the action of another circuit court. He said the record of the St. Francois court stood unblemished and ordered Montgomery and Young back to prison.

At first, prison officials wouldn't take them because two contrary circuit court decisions hung over the men. here was no prison commitment order by which they could be held as convicts once again.

Finally penitentiary officials put them in receiving cells — the separate quarters for new prisoners. They stayed there six months with no action taken either for or against them. Then prison authorities classified them for work in prison shops and for more than eight years they were forgotten men.

A few months ago Sam Haley, Jefferson City lawyer, heard about the case from inside the prison. He appealed to the Federal District Court in Kansas City.

Federal Judge Richard M. Duncan upheld Circuit Judge Blair's order that they be sent back to St. Francois County for a new trial.

Said Haley:

"They may come back to prison, but they have a right to a fair hearing in court first."

Burglar Uses Firemen's Pole

Fire Lt. Thomas Curran said he awakened and saw a man at the foot of his bed. He shouted at him and the man slid quickly down the pole and fled.

The intruder had stolen about $76 from the pockets of sleeping firemen.

2nd Life Taken

DAYTON (AP)—The second fatality of a crash between a fire chief's car and a ladder truck was recorded here last night with the death of Miss Dorothy Frahn, 59, of Dayton. District Fire Chief Bernard J. Schaeff died in the crash Monday; 23 persons, including bystanders, were injured.

Hippo Shuns Try To Find Weight

Keeper Bob Montana set up a hippo-size scale and loaded it down with lures, such as vegetables.

Peter II got his front feet up on the scale, paused, munched, turned contemptuously away.

His weight is somewhere between 500 and 700 pounds, plus that of the goodies he got for doing nothing.

CHEAP PURCHASE

THAT OBSCURE postal employe in Milwaukee who saved his pennies to finance a memorial fountain in one of the city's parks tackled the question of immortality head-on. Other men strive to have monuments erected in their honor by excelling as leaders in their communities or chosen work.

But the late George Hupfer, the post office janitor who never earned more than $1,320 a year in all of his 79 years would have none of this indirection. He simply ordered that the residue of his frugally saved estate, amounting to more than $30,000 be spent on a lavish monument in memory of his wife and himself.

That sum of money being hard to come by for park statuary in this day and taxes, Hupfer has bought himself a degree of permanent recognition his limited talents could not otherwise acquire in life. Park authorities added a few thousand dollars to the bequest and with it are putting up one of the most majestic fountains to be seen for miles around.

Years from now Milwaukeans, studying the modest inscription plaque, will plow through the history books trying to learn the exploits of this obviously distinguished man. And who would deny he was important.

Hupfer knew how to achieve the externals of immortality without the struggle that tries bigger men's souls.

CROP SUPPORTS LOSING

COMPROMISE between complete flexibility and 90 per cent parity supports, which the House accepted tentatively by a rather narrow margin, probably forecasts the final outcome on a farm program.

The administration cannot enact complete flexibility because big city Democrats, who normally would be for lower supports, responded to party pressure and are pledged to vote for high rigid supports. But high price supports seem on the way out.

A bill continuing 90 per cent of parity would undoubtedly be vetoed by the President. High support prices could not be enacted over his veto, and thus a flexible price law passed several years ago, which automatically becomes effective January 1 unless repealed, would go into effect.

The long term implications are that this particular farm program is on its last legs and will be supplanted by something else. Flexibility of supports will be part of it to discourage those who would produce major surplus crops for the government subsidies and not for economic reasons.

Benson may be expected finally to win his main contention: That high fixed supports have outlived their usefulness and no longer serve the nation's interests.

The nation's population is increasing rapidly, especially among the very young and the very old. Presumably the middle-aged, who pay most of the taxes, are having a hard time holding their own.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The attack on conscious and active anti-Communists continues in many forms. The attack is now concentrated against what is referred to as the informer. Of such, there must be thousands in the United States, men and women, who call attention to publications, circulars, movies, meetings, and all sorts of activities which they believe to be subversive. Some make sense; some are nonsense. Some represent good will and patriotism; some are nothing more than personal spite and hatred. It takes a very thorough knowledge of the Communist movement to be able to evaluate this material.

For instance, a publication is issued in Union, New Jersey, called "Common Sense," which regards itself as anti-Communist and is so accepted by many. It has some circulation and is offered for sale in bulk. I have before me an issue of that paper which is headed: "The Coming Red Dictatorship." The sub-head reads: "Asiatic Marxist Jews Control Entire World as Last World War Commences. . ." There is more of this.

The first words of the article are: "You will be shot." Four streamers of photographs show a number of Americans who are Jews, including Bernard Baruch, who is described as "most influential man in the world." The last photograph on that line is David Dubinsky who has been more effective in the fight against World Communism than any 10 anti-Communists I know of.

Such a publication is not the way to fight Communism nor does it provide Americans with data to help them evaluate the Communist movement in the United States. This is anti-Semitism in its most direct form.

On the other hand, most of the authentic data on the nature and activities of the American Communist movement must come from former members and particularly officials of the Communist Party and from undercover men and women put into the party by the FBI and police agencies. The reason that this can be the only source is that there is no other.

Some who were not former Communists and undercover agents may have worked with material sufficiently to be able to evaluate the testimony they give. Again, among anti-Communists are doctrinaire persons who have a vested interest in their own theories.

Again, there are some who while they are now anti-Communists remain Marxists; their hatred for Russia is fierce because they hold that the Russian abondoned Marx and have reverted to Bakunin. In any evaluation of their testimony, these criteria must be given due consideration.

I know those who are referred to as "professional witnesses." They are former Communists or undercover agents who are often called before Grand Juries, Congressional committees and court cases. They are sincere fighters against Communism and in spite of the fact that some of them accept a per diem fee, they serve at a sacrifice and receive less than they could earn at other work. Most of them earn less than their attackers do, and the attackers generally are inadequately informed about this movement which has succeeded in doing this country such damage.

If such witnesses as Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley, Paul Crouch, and some others are frightened away from giving testimony, new witnesses may not step forward.

DIET AND HEALTH

Metabolism Slowed Before Heart Surgery

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MAN is now using a technique somewhat similar to animals' hibernation, a torpid state, in the difficult job of heart surgery. Operations on the human heart are now becoming more and more frequent.

For centuries, the heart was viewed as a delicate organ to which the slightest injury could prove fatal.

Speed Essential

Heart surgery usually must be done very rapidly because the heart cannot be stopped from beating for too long a period. In the past, much of this surgery was done blindly because of the speed and danger connected with this work.

In a new attempt at heart surgery, patients with heart difficulties are having their metabolism slowed down enough to allow circulation from the heart to be interrupted for a period of time.

Body Temperature Lowered

This is done by lowering the body temperature from 98.6 degrees to a stage of almost hibernation, so that the body demands of the cells and tissues are decreased. A temperature of 82 degrees Fahrenheit is usually sufficient. This is attained by immersing the body in a tub of ice water as long as necessary.

During anesthesia, the heart can often be stopped from beating for as long as eight minutes when this procedure is used. The cooling is done very rapidly.

Post-Operative Procedure

The body, after operation, is then immersed in warm water to raise the temperature again.

Recently, this operation was performed on 15 patients with serious heart difficulties. The results were excellent in 13 of these cases.

This method has been used mostly on children, but it has been tried on a few adults. Children seem to tolerate it better than adults.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. M.: What would cause a woman to have more frequent menstrual periods after giving birth to a child?

Answer: This may be due to many factors. It might be due to retained tissue from the pregnancy. It might also be due to some form of hormone imbalance following the pregnancy. You should be under the care of your physician.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

AS YET, Mrs. Brandt had not brought up the subject which she had written was the main reason for this week-end invitation. Perhaps she was waiting for an appropriate time — and until her young guest was acclimated and at ease. Or again, she may have decided to postpone any discussion until she had decided how deserving the clinic, and its representatives, might be.

Cynthia was just as glad to have a little time too. She had determined to put the clinic—and Walt—out of her mind. So far, she had succeeded. She felt as though she had shed one layer of her life to put on a fresher, newer one. Almost like the renewal of spring, as Norman had said.

The big colonial house, although tucked away from the main line of traffic, was not without other guests. People kept dropping in, sometimes at the cocktail and tea hour, or again during the day, lingering on into the evening for bridge or chess or a game of pingpong in the large recreation room on the third floor, which Norman told her had been his and Jim's playroom when they were boys.

"Your family may live in the country," Cynthia remarked, "but I can't see how they would ever have a chance to be lonely. They have so many neighbors and friends."

"Dad draws people like a magnet," Norman said. "And everyone admires my mother. They know what a remarkable person she is. For it's Mom who runs things. Dad retired quite a few years ago. He doesn't want anyone to know it, but a heart condition made him take life easier. His friends do know this—even if he thinks they don't—and that's another reason they stop by to chat and get his opinion and advice and keep his mind off himself."

"It's so different from the farm where I grew up." Cynthia admitted this as being her reason for finding Pleasantridge quite gay in contrast. Yet it was not a surface gaiety; it was genuine and warm. Everything, in spite of being so well organized, was kept on a simple scale.

"Oh, Mom does lots of actual hard labor herself," Norman bragged, when Cynthia explained something of this contrast with the farm in Indiana, where work began at daylight and lasted until it became too dark to continue the many chores. "You ought to see her in overalls helping bring a calf into the world, or personally tending a heifer or mare when one of the animals comes down with some virus. Mom takes great pride in her livestock. She has experimented with the development of a rare new breed. They are a cross between the best characteristics of the stocky English Shorthorn and the humpbacked Indian Brahman."

Norman pointed out one exceptionally fine bull yearling; deep-chested, cherry-red in color, with its odd, yet distinguishing small hump. He told Cynthia that it had won several prizes, was worth at least twelve thousand dollars.

She was properly impressed. Though she confessed she preferred the ordinary shy, sweet-faced young calves. She could not imagine Norman's mother assisting at the birth of one. Or wearing overalls of blue denim. Yet she imagined that Elizabeth Brandt would still maintain that queenly air.

Cynthia had an opportunity to wear her new blue-green dress. There was a more formal party Saturday evening, with about sixty invited guests. She did not have to wonder if the dress was appropriate and becoming—Norman's eyes told her that. And she must have measured up to Mrs. Brandt's yardstick of approval and passed whatever tests her hostess might have had in mind. For after the last guest had departed, Mrs. Brandt explained that they had been invited for the express purpose of meeting Cynthia.

"Oh, dear, I'm just as glad I didn't know that!" Cynthia felt the warm color flooding her face. She hoped that these friends and neighbors had not been asked in to give Norman's newest girl the once-over, as Roz would call it. Then she felt rather silly as his mother went on to explain.

"I wanted them to meet you because of those ideas in regard to your clinic I mentioned in my note. I can safely say, I'm sure, that all of them were properly impressed with you, Cynthia."

So she had passed the test. Cynthia wondered what Walt would say at the clinic being called hers!

"I'm afraid it's too late," Elizabeth Brandt added, "to discuss this matter tonight. Suppose we have a talk in my study tomorrow after dinner—before Norman drives you back to town. Dinner on Sunday is at two."

"And of course, my dear," she added further, when Cynthia said that would be agreeable, "we hope you will be coming quite often to Pleasantridge."

The smile she gave the nurse was so friendly and sincere that Cynthia was made to feel that she had succeeded in winning over Norman's mother, too.

"I told you they'd like you," Norman said, after both his parents had said good night and retired, to leave the two young people by the big fireplace in which only the embers of logs now smoldered.

"I'm glad if your parents like me personally," Cynthia said. "Only I must admit it's been something of a strain to feel that I've been on approval. If I wasn't all right, I gather, I was to be sent back. And the clinic would be shipped along with me."

"Now, don't feel that way!" He put a hand on one of her shoulders, made her look into his eyes. "Mom has given more time and thought to these ideas of hers than anyone would believe possible. When she goes into anything, she does it thoroughly. If she has decided to adopt the clinic as another project, I assure you she will take it on as a lifetime job. So you can't blame her for wanting to make certain it would be worth while.

"You'll be more pleased after your discussion with Mom tomorrow," Norman predicted. Then he dropped this serious subject.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — Many lawyers are so anxious to "clean up" on interpreting the 1954 Revenue Act for bewildered clients that they have a behind-the-scenes movement to oust T. Coleman Andrews as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The distinguished Virginia Republican's offense, in their eyes, is that he is one of the nation's leading certified public accountants, but not a member of the bar.

It is generally agreed that the new income tax law, which will be the first major overhaul of the national tax structure in 73 years, will be a big bonanza for tax experts. By comparison, the Klondike gold discovery will be peanuts.

Tax authorities will study every paragraph, every proviso, every exception, every comma and semicolon, and be able to advise individuals and corporations on how to take advantage of every honest or tricky loophole. That is their job, and the most profitable law firms at Washington and elsewhere are those which specialize in tax matters.

LAWYERS' FIELD—Naturally, the lawyers want to reserve this rich new field to themselves, as against the encroachment of certified public accountants, former Internal Revenue officials and agents and other nonlegal experts in this realm. Many of these men advise and help to prepare the March 15 income tax returns for fees ranging from $25 to $50, as this writer knows from experience.

In the June issue of its Journal, the American Bar Association published its brief for the lawyers, with a heavy sideswipe at Commissioner Andrews because he is not one of them. It expressed alarm over prospective revision of Treasury Circular 230, which has been a golden asylum for lawyers in the tax field for many, many years.

EDITORIAL —Treasury Circular 230 contains this clause: "Nothing in the regulations in this part shall be construed as authorizing persons not members of the bar to practice law" before the Treasury Department. In citing this prohibition, the authors of the editorial are apparently thinking of the practice of taxation law, as modified by the 1954 Revenue Act.

The editorial also states that the American Institute of Accountants, which Commissioner Andrews once headed, has asked the Treasury to "grant accountants a Federal license to engage in what would constitute the unauthorized practice of law in the various states of the union."

The Treasury, of course, has no such licensing authority. Finally, as evidence of the American Bar Association's basic objective, the last sentence of the Journal's editorial says: "The present Commissioner of Internal Revenue, T. Coleman Andrews, is a former president of the American Institute of Accountants."

TRUE VERSION—In the anti-Andrews campaign, certain Washington writers have attacked him because he "entertained" Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy at his Richmond home, and referred to him as a "great American," while investigating his income tax returns. President Eisenhower knows the other and true version of this fairy tale, to wit:

Last December, McCarthy was invited to address the Richmond Civic Affairs Club. Andrews had nothing to do with the invitation. Andrews phoned McCarthy, and asked about his plans for traveling to Richmond. The upshot was that Andrews drove "Joe" to Richmond, a two-hour trip, in the commissioner's used Cadillac. Andrews' home was on the direct route to the hotel where McCarthy was to speak.

They stopped at Andrews' home to change into tuxedo and black tie, and maybe they had a cocktail or two. Both are "rugged Americans." But Andrews' agents are still prying into McCarthy's financial affairs vis-a-vis Uncle Sam.

CHEAP PURCHASE

THAT OBSCURE postal employe in Milwaukee who saved his pennies to finance a memorial fountain in one of the city's parks tackled the question of immortality head-on. Other men strive to have monuments erected in their honor by excelling as leaders in their communities or chosen work.

But the late George Hupfer, the post office janitor who never earned more than $1,320 a year in all of his 79 years would have none of this indirection. He simply ordered that the residue of his frugally saved estate, amounting to more than $30,000 be spent on a lavish monument in memory of his wife and himself.

That sum of money being hard to come by for park statuary in this day and taxes, Hupfer has bought himself a degree of permanent recognition his limited talents could not otherwise acquire in life. Park authorities added a few thousand dollars to the bequest and with it are putting up one of the most majestic fountains to be seen for miles around.

Years from now Milwaukeans, studying the modest inscription plaque, will plow through the history books trying to learn the exploits of this obviously distinguished man. And who would deny he was important.

Hupfer knew how to achieve the externals of immortality without the struggle that tries bigger men's souls.

CROP SUPPORTS LOSING

COMPROMISE between complete flexibility and 90 per cent parity supports, which the House accepted tentatively by a rather narrow margin, probably forecasts the final outcome on a farm program.

The administration cannot enact complete flexibility because big city Democrats, who normally would be for lower supports, responded to party pressure and are pledged to vote for high rigid supports. But high price supports seem on the way out.

A bill continuing 90 per cent of parity would undoubtedly be vetoed by the President. High support prices could not be enacted over his veto, and thus a flexible price law passed several years ago, which automatically becomes effective January 1 unless repealed, would go into effect.

The long term implications are that this particular farm program is on its last legs and will be supplanted by something else. Flexibility of supports will be part of it to discourage those who would produce major surplus crops for the government subsidies and not for economic reasons.

Benson may be expected finally to win his main contention: That high fixed supports have outlived their usefulness and no longer serve the nation's interests.

The nation's population is increasing rapidly, especially among the very young and the very old. Presumably the middle-aged, who pay most of the taxes, are having a hard time holding their own.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The attack on conscious and active anti-Communists continues in many forms. The attack is now concentrated against what is referred to as the informer. Of such, there must be thousands in the United States, men and women, who call attention to publications, circulars, movies, meetings, and all sorts of activities which they believe to be subversive. Some make sense; some are nonsense. Some represent good will and patriotism; some are nothing more than personal spite and hatred. It takes a very thorough knowledge of the Communist movement to be able to evaluate this material.

For instance, a publication is issued in Union, New Jersey, called "Common Sense," which regards itself as anti-Communist and is so accepted by many. It has some circulation and is offered for sale in bulk. I have before me an issue of that paper which is headed: "The Coming Red Dictatorship." The sub-head reads: "Asiatic Marxist Jews Control Entire World as Last World War Commences. . ." There is more of this.

The first words of the article are: "You will be shot." Four streamers of photographs show a number of Americans who are Jews, including Bernard Baruch, who is described as "most influential man in the world." The last photograph on that line is David Dubinsky who has been more effective in the fight against World Communism than any 10 anti-Communists I know of.

Such a publication is not the way to fight Communism nor does it provide Americans with data to help them evaluate the Communist movement in the United States. This is anti-Semitism in its most direct form.

On the other hand, most of the authentic data on the nature and activities of the American Communist movement must come from former members and particularly officials of the Communist Party and from undercover men and women put into the party by the FBI and police agencies. The reason that this can be the only source is that there is no other.

Some who were not former Communists and undercover agents may have worked with material sufficiently to be able to evaluate the testimony they give. Again, among anti-Communists are doctrinaire persons who have a vested interest in their own theories.

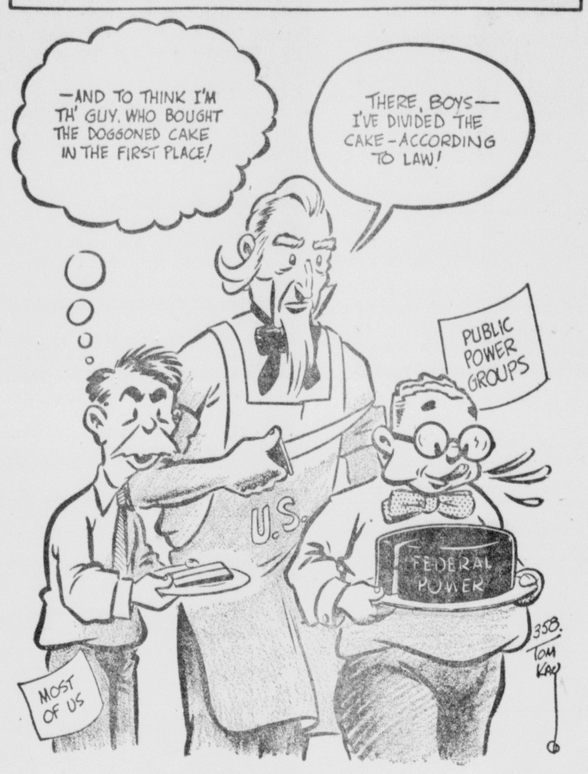

Again, there are some who while they are now anti-Communists remain Marxists; their hatred for Russia is fierce because they hold that the Russian abondoned Marx and have reverted to Bakunin. In any evaluation of their testimony, these criteria must be given due consideration.

I know those who are referred to as "professional witnesses." They are former Communists or undercover agents who are often called before Grand Juries, Congressional committees and court cases. They are sincere fighters against Communism and in spite of the fact that some of them accept a per diem fee, they serve at a sacrifice and receive less than they could earn at other work. Most of them earn less than their attackers do, and the attackers generally are inadequately informed about this movement which has succeeded in doing this country such damage.

If such witnesses as Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley, Paul Crouch, and some others are frightened away from giving testimony, new witnesses may not step forward.

DIET AND HEALTH

Metabolism Slowed Before Heart Surgery

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MAN is now using a technique somewhat similar to animals' hibernation, a torpid state, in the difficult job of heart surgery. Operations on the human heart are now becoming more and more frequent.

For centuries, the heart was viewed as a delicate organ to which the slightest injury could prove fatal.

Speed Essential

Heart surgery usually must be done very rapidly because the heart cannot be stopped from beating for too long a period. In the past, much of this surgery was done blindly because of the speed and danger connected with this work.

In a new attempt at heart surgery, patients with heart difficulties are having their metabolism slowed down enough to allow circulation from the heart to be interrupted for a period of time.

Body Temperature Lowered

This is done by lowering the body temperature from 98.6 degrees to a stage of almost hibernation, so that the body demands of the cells and tissues are decreased. A temperature of 82 degrees Fahrenheit is usually sufficient. This is attained by immersing the body in a tub of ice water as long as necessary.

During anesthesia, the heart can often be stopped from beating for as long as eight minutes when this procedure is used. The cooling is done very rapidly.

Post-Operative Procedure

The body, after operation, is then immersed in warm water to raise the temperature again.

Recently, this operation was performed on 15 patients with serious heart difficulties. The results were excellent in 13 of these cases.

This method has been used mostly on children, but it has been tried on a few adults. Children seem to tolerate it better than adults.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. M.: What would cause a woman to have more frequent menstrual periods after giving birth to a child?

Answer: This may be due to many factors. It might be due to retained tissue from the pregnancy. It might also be due to some form of hormone imbalance following the pregnancy. You should be under the care of your physician.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

AS YET, Mrs. Brandt had not brought up the subject which she had written was the main reason for this week-end invitation. Perhaps she was waiting for an appropriate time — and until her young guest was acclimated and at ease. Or again, she may have decided to postpone any discussion until she had decided how deserving the clinic, and its representatives, might be.

Cynthia was just as glad to have a little time too. She had determined to put the clinic—and Walt—out of her mind. So far, she had succeeded. She felt as though she had shed one layer of her life to put on a fresher, newer one. Almost like the renewal of spring, as Norman had said.

The big colonial house, although tucked away from the main line of traffic, was not without other guests. People kept dropping in, sometimes at the cocktail and tea hour, or again during the day, lingering on into the evening for bridge or chess or a game of ping-pong in the large recreation room on the third floor, which Norman told her had been his and Jim's playroom when they were boys.

"Your family may live in the country," Cynthia remarked, "but I can't see how they would ever have a chance to be lonely. They have so many neighbors and friends."

"Dad draws people like a magnet," Norman said. "And everyone admires my mother. They know what a remarkable person she is. For it's Mom who runs things. Dad retired quite a few years ago. He doesn't want anyone to know it, but a heart condition made him take life easier. His friends do know this—even if he thinks they don't—and that's another reason they stop by to chat and get his opinion and advice and keep his mind off himself."

"It's so different from the farm where I grew up." Cynthia admitted this as being her reason for finding Pleasantridge quite gay in contrast. Yet it was not a surface gaiety; it was genuine and warm. Everything, in spite of being so well organized, was kept on a simple scale.

"Oh, Mom does lots of actual hard labor herself," Norman bragged, when Cynthia explained something of this contrast with the farm in Indiana, where work began at daylight and lasted until it became too dark to continue the many chores. "You ought to see her in overalls helping bring a calf into the world, or personally tending a heifer or mare when one of the animals comes down with some virus. Mom takes great pride in her livestock. She has experimented with the development of a rare new breed. They are a cross between the best characteristics of the stocky English Shorthorn and the humpbacked Indian Brahman."

Norman pointed out one exceptionally fine bull yearling; deep-chested, cherry-red in color, with its odd, yet distinguishing small hump. He told Cynthia that it had won several prizes, was worth at least twelve thousand dollars.

She was properly impressed. Though she confessed she preferred the ordinary shy, sweet-faced young calves. She could not imagine Norman's mother assisting at the birth of one. Or wearing overalls of blue denim. Yet she imagined that Elizabeth Brandt would still maintain that queenly air.

Cynthia had an opportunity to wear her new blue-green dress. There was a more formal party Saturday evening, with about sixty invited guests. She did not have to wonder if the dress was appropriate and becoming—Norman's eyes told her that. And she must have measured up to Mrs. Brandt's yardstick of approval and passed whatever tests her hostess might have had in mind. For after the last guest had departed, Mrs. Brandt explained that they had been invited for the express purpose of meeting Cynthia.

"Oh, dear, I'm just as glad I didn't know that!" Cynthia felt the warm color flooding her face. She hoped that these friends and neighbors had not been asked in to give Norman's newest girl the once-over, as Roz would call it. Then she felt rather silly as his mother went on to explain.

"I wanted them to meet you because of those ideas in regard to your clinic I mentioned in my note. I can safely say, I'm sure, that all of them were properly impressed with you, Cynthia."

So she had passed the test. Cynthia wondered what Walt would say at the clinic being called hers!

"I'm afraid it's too late," Elizabeth Brandt added, "to discuss this matter tonight. Suppose we have a talk in my study tomorrow after dinner—before Norman drives you back to town. Dinner on Sunday is at two."

"And of course, my dear," she added further, when Cynthia said that would be agreeable, "we hope you will be coming quite often to Pleasantridge."

The smile she gave the nurse was so friendly and sincere that Cynthia was made to feel that she had succeeded in winning over Norman's mother, too.

"I told you they'd like you," Norman said, after both his parents had said good night and retired, to leave the two young people by the big fireplace in which only the embers of logs now smoldered.

"I'm glad if your parents like me personally," Cynthia said. "Only I must admit it's been something of a strain to feel that I've been on approval. If I wasn't all right, I gather, I was to be sent back. And the clinic would be shipped along with me."

"Now, don't feel that way!" He put a hand on one of her shoulders, made her look into his eyes. "Mom has given more time and thought to these ideas of hers than anyone would believe possible. When she goes into anything, she does it thoroughly. If she has decided to adopt the clinic as another project, I assure you she will take it on as a lifetime job. So you can't blame her for wanting to make certain it would be worth while.

"You'll be more pleased after your discussion with Mom tomorrow," Norman predicted. Then he dropped this serious subject.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
news behind the news

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON — Many lawyers are so anxious to "clean up" on interpreting the 1954 Revenue Act for bewildered clients that they have a behind-the-scenes movement to oust T. Coleman Andrews as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The distinguished Virginia Republican's offense, in their eyes, is that he is one of the nation's leading certified public accountants, but not a member of the bar.

It is generally agreed that the new income tax law, which will be the first major overhaul of the national tax structure in 73 years, will be a big bonanza for tax experts. By comparison, the Klondike gold discovery will be peanuts.

Tax authorities will study every paragraph, every proviso, every exception, every comma and semicolon, and be able to advise individuals and corporations on how to take advantage of every honest or tricky loophole. That is their job, and the most profitable law firms at Washington and elsewhere are those which specialize in tax matters.

LAWYERS' FIELD—Naturally, the lawyers want to reserve this rich new field to themselves, as against the encroachment of certified public accountants, former Internal Revenue officials and agents and other nonlegal experts in this realm. Many of these men advise and help to prepare the March 15 income tax returns for fees ranging from $25 to $50, as this writer knows from experience.

In the June issue of its Journal, the American Bar Association published its brief for the lawyers, with a heavy sideswipe at Commissioner Andrews because he is not one of them. It expressed alarm over prospective revision of Treasury Circular 230, which has been a golden asylum for lawyers in the tax field for many, many years.

EDITORIAL—Treasury Circular 230 contains this clause: "Nothing in the regulations in this part shall be construed as authorizing persons not members of the bar to practice law" before the Treasury Department. In citing this prohibition, the authors of the editorial are apparently thinking of the practice of taxation law, as modified by the 1954 Revenue Act.

The editorial also states that the American Institute of Accountants, which Commissioner Andrews once headed, has asked the Treasury to "grant accountants a Federal license to engage in what would constitute the unauthorized practice of law in the various states of the union."

The Treasury, of course, has no such licensing authority. Finally, as evidence of the American Bar Association's basic objective, the last sentence of the Journal's editorial says: "The present Commissioner of Internal Revenue, T. Coleman Andrews, is a former president of the American Institute of Accountants."

Mrs. Virgil Cress Hosts Mrs. Marion's Class Meet

Mrs. McFarland Conducts Session

Mrs. Marion's Sunday School class of First Methodist church held a regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Virgil Cress of 153 Montclair Ave.

Fourteen members were present for the session. Two guests, Mrs. Bertha Burris of Pleasant City and Miss Joan McFarland, were welcomed by the members.

Mrs. Clark McFarland, president, conducted a business session, opening the meeting with devotions led by Miss Wilmina Phebus.

A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. Marion of Columbus, thanking the class for a birthday remembrance. The group voted to cancel the August meeting.

The class members made donations toward a Christmas fund being sponsored by a popular TV program. Mrs. McFarland, who is to be guest on the program Friday, was appointed to present the donation during the program.

Games and contests provided diversions during a social hour. Contests were won by Miss Ruth Stout and Mrs. Roger Lozier.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Garold Crites, Mrs. Herbert Southward and Mrs. McFarland.

Newest Fashions For Fall Feature The Bloused Look

Here are the things to look for when you go shopping for that new fall suit or dress. These are the outfits that you will find in your favorite specialty shop or department store, come fall. These are the top styles already ordered by your local buyers and now in process of manufacture in New York's teeming garment center.

1. The bloused top dress. This is the headline silhouette for fall, following the corseted midriff look of last season. It's an easy, relaxed silhouette, which gives you room to breathe, doesn't reveal every bulge of figure, is easy to wear. You'll find it in all fabrics, usually teamed with a slim skirt.

2. The "blouson" suit or costume. This has a bloused jacket which ends at the waistline with a belt, is worn with matching slim dress or skirt, comes in handsome belt, is worn with matching slim weeds and flannels, dark worsted and new blends of Dacron, worsted and silk.

3. The sailor collar. This is a new and important note for fall, found on dresses, suits and coats, sometimes even in fur.

4. The sack jacket. This is a loose, boxy, short jacket which may be semi-fitted in front, loose in back.

5. The barrel coat. This is rounded above, slightly tapered at the hemline, loose and comfortable, smartest when worn slightly shorter than the skirt or dress beneath.

6. The middy. This is the loose, schoolgirl garment that has been coming back to favor periodically for two generations. A pullover with no waistline, worn with a slim skirt, shown in high-color flannels and jerseys, often with a sailor collar.

7. The low, open neckline for dresses. A flattering, feminine decolletage achieved in many ways, sometimes with low, flat or standaway collars.

8. The fur collared or fur lined suit. An old favorite newly popular for this fall. Often reversible.

9. The costume. This consists of wool dress and matching jacket or full-length coat, and is the most important single fashion of the season. Dress usually is low-necked, short-sleeved, sufficiently dressy for after-5 wear, permitting the wearer to go from office or shopping trip to cocktails and dinner, suitably dressed when she removes her jacket.

10. Combinations of satin and tweed. A top fall fashion. Sometimes done with satin linings and weskits combined with tweed suits. Sometimes done by adding satin hat and blouse to a tweed suit.

11. The doll dress. This is the little-girl fashion so popular this summer, carried on for fall in dainty, lacy, white or pastel dance dresses.

12. Wide collars on coats, suits and blouses.

Small fry like a milk drink made with two tablespoons of maple-flavored syrup and served over a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Sugar wafers taste good with this for summer afternoon refreshment.

POCKET EDITION OF THE FULL SKIRT—Is Nettie Rosenstein's summer afternoon and after-dark dress of sunburn-colored silk seersucker. The large squared skirt pockets are buttoned in the center at the top, and the small collar of the dress is tabbed under its points.

Saltcreek 4-H Livestock Club Hosts Mr. Kroetz

Saltcreek Livestock 4-H club held a regular meeting in the home of Marvin Reichelderfer.

Associate county agent, Marion Kroetz, was a guest at the session. The group made plans for a club tour and picnic to be held Sept. 12 at Tarlton Cross Mound.

Projects were discussed by individual members. Larry and Dwight Beougher were selected as hosts for the next meeting.

Ramon Maxson presided at a recent meeting of the club when projects for the year were discussed by members. During a business session, the amount of annual dues was decided. Demonstrations were planned for the next meeting, in the home of Garry O'Hara.

Donald Maxson gave a demonstration on caring for livestock during a meeting held in the home of Gary O'Hara. Edith Defenbaugh presented a short address on a health theme.

Rural Life Sunday was observed with attendance at services in Tarlton Methodist church. A short program was conducted and sermon was given by the Rev. Earl Cowen.

Wanda and Ramon Maxson were hosts to a meeting when Miss Elisabeth Stevenson of the County Extension Office was guest.

The meeting opened with the club pledge. A community project was voted on and members discussed their individual projects.

Following the business session, refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

Mrs. Virgil Cress Hosts Mrs. Marion's Class Meet

Mrs. McFarland Conducts Session

Mrs. Marion's Sunday School class of First Methodist church held a regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Virgil Cress of 153 Montclair Ave.

Fourteen members were present for the session. Two guests, Mrs. Bertha Burris of Pleasant City and Miss Joan McFarland, were welcomed by the members.

Mrs. Clark McFarland, president, conducted a business session, opening the meeting with devotions led by Miss Wilmina Phebus.

A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. Marion of Columbus, thanking the class for a birthday remembrance. The group voted to cancel the August meeting.

The class members made donations toward a Christmas fund being sponsored by a popular TV program. Mrs. McFarland, who is to be guest on the program Friday, was appointed to present the donation during the program.

Games and contests provided diversions during a social hour. Contests were won by Miss Ruth Stout and Mrs. Roger Lozier.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting. She was assisted by Mrs. Garold Crites, Mrs. Herbert Southward and Mrs. McFarland.

Newest Fashions For Fall Feature The Bloused Look

Here are the things to look for when you go shopping for that new fall suit or dress. These are the outfits that you will find in your favorite specialty shop or department store, come fall. These are the top styles already ordered by your local buyers and now in process of manufacture in New York's teeming garment center.

1. The bloused top dress. This is the headline silhouette for fall, following the corseted midriff look of last season. It's an easy, relaxed silhouette, which gives you room to breathe, doesn't reveal every bulge of figure, is easy to wear. You'll find it in all fabrics, usually teamed with a slim skirt.

2. The "blouson" suit or costume. This has a bloused jacket which ends at the waistline with a belt, is worn with matching slim dress or skirt, comes in handsome belt, is worn with matching slim tweeds and flannels, dark worsted and new blends of Dacron, worsted and silk.

3. The sailor collar. This is a new and important note for fall, found on dresses, suits and coats, sometimes even in fur.

4. The sack jacket. This is a loose, boxy, short jacket which may be semi-fitted in front, loose in back.

5. The barrel coat. This is rounded above, slightly tapered at the hemline, loose and comfortable, smartest when worn slightly shorter than the skirt or dress beneath.

6. The middy. This is the loose, schoolgirl garment that has been coming back to favor periodically for two generations. A pullover with no waistline, worn with a slim skirt, shown in high-color flannels and jerseys, often with a sailor collar.

7. The low, open neckline for dresses. A flattering, feminine decolletage achieved in many ways, sometimes with low, flat or standaway collars.

8. The fur collared or fur lined suit. An old favorite newly popular for this fall. Often reversible.

9. The costume. This consists of wool dress and matching jacket or full-length coat, and is the most important single fashion of the season. Dress usually is low-necked, short-sleeved, sufficiently dressy for after-5 wear, permitting the wearer to go from office or shopping trip to cocktails and dinner, suitably dressed when she removes her jacket.

10. Combinations of satin and tweed. A top fall fashion. Sometimes done with satin linings and weskits combined with tweed suits. Sometimes done by adding satin hat and blouse to a tweed suit.

11. The doll dress. This is the little-girl fashion so popular this summer, carried on for fall in dainty, lacy, white or pastel dance dresses.

12. Wide collars on coats, suits and blouses.

Small fry like a milk drink made with two tablespoons of maple-flavored syrup and served over a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Sugar wafers taste good with this for summer afternoon refreshment.

POCKET EDITION OF THE FULL SKIRT—Is Nettie Rosenstein's summer afternoon and after-dark dress of sunburn-colored silk seersucker. The large squared skirt pockets are buttoned in the center at the top, and the small collar of the dress is tabbed under its points.

Saltcreek 4-H Livestock Club Hosts Mr. Kroetz

Saltcreek Livestock 4-H club held a regular meeting in the home of Marvin Reichelderfer.

Associate county agent, Marion Kroetz, was a guest at the session. The group made plans for a club tour and picnic to be held Sept. 12 at Tarlton Cross Mound.

Projects were discussed by individual members. Larry and Dwight Beougher were selected as hosts for the next meeting.

Ramon Maxson presided at a recent meeting of the club when projects for the year were discussed by members. During a business session, the amount of annual dues was decided. Demonstrations were planned for the next meeting, in the home of Garry O'Hara.

Donald Maxson gave a demonstration on caring for livestock during a meeting held in the home of Gary O'Hara. Edith Defenbaugh presented a short address on a health theme.

Rural Life Sunday was observed with attendance at services in Tarlton Methodist church. A short program was conducted and sermon was given by the Rev. Earl Cowen.

Wanda and Ramon Maxson were hosts to a meeting when Miss Elisabeth Stevenson of the County Extension Office was guest.

The meeting opened with the club pledge. A community project was voted on and members discussed their individual projects.

Following the business session, refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

4-H Club Group Hosts Family Picnic Meet

The Cook, Sew and Chatter 4-H club enjoyed a family picnic at Logan Elm Park.

The parents prepared the picnic and enjoyed a social hour while the 4-H members and their young guests participated in games and contests.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clifton and family; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sharpe and daughter, Linda; Mrs. S. D. Lathouse; Mrs. Ray Nelson and daughter, Rosalee; Mrs. Forest Easterday and children, and Mrs. Charles Glitt and children.

Mrs. Donald Wolf and children; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Metcalf and children; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Purdin and daughter, Lura; Joyce Thompson; Dianne Hudson; Canda Estep, and Paula Francis.

The ninth meeting of the Cook, Sew and Chatter club was held in the home of Mrs. William Purdin, club advisor.

The session was called to order by the president, Marilyn Clifton. A discussion was held on a community project and the group voted to make health and safety posters to display in store windows during National Safety Week.

Demonstrations on preparation of salads sandwiches and Summer drinks were given by Joyce Thompson, Linda Sharpe and Linda Sue Easterday. Paula Francis demonstrated the button-hole stitch. Recreation was directed by Beverly Wolf.

Weekly Food Review

By The Associated Press

That old standby, chuck roast, will head the list of good buys among meats in the nation's food stores this weekend.

And by careful shopping, you may also find specials on such items as round steak or roast, rib roast, leg of lamb, turkey, fowl and pot roast. However, stores featuring these will be exceptions to the rule, for nearly all meats will be more expensive this week.

One leading chain, for instance, will hike prices of sirloin steak by four to six cents a pound in most outlets. It will boost pork chops six cents a pound, fryers two cents or more, and leg of lamb two to four cents. Rib roast will cost the same or a little more than a week ago while veal chops will show little price change.

Eggs will be higher in most areas, too, with large grade A whites up two to six cents a dozen. Butter will be unchanged in the majority of markets.

Despite the upswing in prices this week, the outlook for the rest of this year isn't bad at all. Trade sources say hog slaughter promises to run well ahead of last year, meaning lower pork prices in the months ahead. There will be plenty of beef available, too, and chicken production continues strong.

Produce men report that beans, cabbage, celery and lettuce are reasonably priced and of good quality. Most of these vegetables are coming from nearby growing area. Also mentioned as good values are beets, potatoes, radishes and squash.

Dry weather is cutting down on the volume of some vegetables. Spinach, for instance, is higher than it was last summer.

Peaches are considered a good buy in fruit, and raspberries and cherries are described as moderately priced. A flood of limes is on the market at low prices, just in time for hot-weather drinks.

Plums, nectarines and seedless grapes are higher. In the citrus division, grapefruit is up sharply.

Eastern markets noted the arrival of the first bartlett pears from California. Prices are on the high side but should come down as shipments increase.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reminds you that children should drink three to four cups of milk a day and adults should take two or more. One way to get your milk, says the USDA, is to use it in dishes like cream soups.

Beauties Arriving For World Contest

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Shapely delegates from various nations and states of this country begin arriving today for the Miss Universe beauty pageant.

The first official get-together of all the beauties will be a harbor boat ride tomorrow evening. Next week will be devoted first to the selection of Miss United States, and then to choosing of Miss Universe.

Dog Travels 1,000 Miles Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—When 12-year-old Jimmy Eaton and his parents left last week for a new home at Findlay Lake, N.Y., room was made in the car for Jimmy's collie dog, Trixie.

This week, dusty and tired from 1,000 miles of travel, Trixie limped back to his old home here.

Men Seeking Jobs As Housekeepers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Lulu B. Bryden, director of the Volunteers of America's free employment bureau, observed yesterday that men are applying for household jobs hereabouts.

"Men are much more willing than women to hire out for housecleaning, floor waxing and odd jobs about the house," said Mrs. Bryden.

Since 1910, New York has been the leading state in the nation in population. Before that time Virginia was the most densely populated state.

Weekly Food Review

By The Associated Press

That old standby, chuck roast, will head the list of good buys among meats in the nation's food stores this weekend.

And by careful shopping, you may also find specials on such items as round steak or roast, rib roast, leg of lamb, turkey, fowl and pot roast. However, stores featuring these will be exceptions to the rule, for nearly all meats will be more expensive this week.

One leading chain, for instance, will hike prices of sirloin steak by four to six cents a pound in most outlets. It will boost pork chops six cents a pound, fryers two cents or more, and leg of lamb two to four cents. Rib roast will cost the same or a little more than a week ago while veal chops will show little price change.

Eggs will be higher in most areas, too, with large grade A whites up two to six cents a dozen. Butter will be unchanged in the majority of markets.

Despite the upswing in prices this week, the outlook for the rest of this year isn't bad at all. Trade sources say hog slaughter promises to run well ahead of last year, meaning lower pork prices in the months ahead. There will be plenty of beef available, too, and chicken production continues strong.

Produce men report that beans, cabbage, celery and lettuce are reasonably priced and of good quality. Most of these vegetables are coming from nearby growing area. Also mentioned as good values are beets, potatoes, radishes and squash.

Dry weather is cutting down on the volume of some vegetables. Spinach, for instance, is higher than it was last summer.

Peaches are considered a good buy in fruit, and raspberries and cherries are described as moderately priced. A flood of limes is on the market at low prices, just in time for hot-weather drinks.

Plums, nectarines and seedless grapes are higher. In the citrus division, grapefruit is up sharply.

Eastern markets noted the arrival of the first bartlett pears from California. Prices are on the high side but should come down as shipments increase.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reminds you that children should drink three to four cups of milk a day and adults should take two or more. One way to get your milk, says the USDA, is to use it in dishes like cream soups.

Beauties Arriving For World Contest

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Shapely delegates from various nations and states of this country begin arriving today for the Miss Universe beauty pageant.

The first official get-together of all the beauties will be a harbor boat ride tomorrow evening. Next week will be devoted first to the selection of Miss United States, and then to choosing of Miss Universe.

Dog Travels 1,000 Miles Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—When 12-year-old Jimmy Eaton and his parents left last week for a new home at Findlay Lake, N.Y., room was made in the car for Jimmy's collie dog, Trixie.

Somewhere in Oklahoma, Trixie got separated from the Eatons.

Men Seeking Jobs As Housekeepers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Lulu B. Bryden, director of the Volunteers of America's free employment bureau, observed yesterday that men are applying for household jobs hereabouts.

"Men are much more willing than women to hire out for housecleaning, floor waxing and odd jobs about the house," said Mrs. Bryden.

Since 1910, New York has been the leading state in the nation in population. Before that time Virginia was the most densely populated state.

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this moment the clearest thing that can be said about the Geneva conference on Indochina is that it is not clear at all. Visibility should improve in the next few days. The conference is near a climax.

The Communists have victory within their grasp. But if their appetite is too big Indochina might turn into a shooting war that could involve the United States.

The French for almost eight years have been fighting the Communist-led Vietminh in Viet Nam, one of Indochina's three states. Now they want peace.

It seems certain French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, meeting at Geneva with Russia's V. M. Molotov and Red China's Chou En-Lai, is willing to let the Vietminh have the northern part of Viet Nam while the French retain the southern half.

Being able to force the French to this kind of settlement would, by itself, be a clear victory for the Communists. That much, and no more, seems certain now.

What isn't clear is this: Will the Communists demand only half of Viet Nam or all of it? And if only half, on what conditions? And if the Communists press Mendes-France, will he, to get peace at any price, yield all of Viet Nam?

When he took over the French government almost a month ago he promised he'd get peace in Indochina within 30 days or quit.

If he quit and the French felt their efforts for an "honorable" peace had been spurned, their fighting spirit might revive to carry on the war with greater sacrifices than they've been willing to make in eight years.

They probably would not do so without assurances of active help on their side by the United States. Just how much help the United States and Britain would give has been one of the most thoroughly unclear parts of the whole picture.

Mendes-France met two days this week in Paris with Secretary of State Dulles and Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. They later issued a cheery statement which threw no light on a military agreement, if any.

Nevertheless, the Communists have to gamble on settling for less than everything or asking too much and facing the prospect of full-scale resumption of the war, plus the danger of American and British intervention.

From Dulles' public statements they could hardly guess what the United States might do. On April 17, nine days before the Geneva conference opened, he said it was "unlikely" American troops would be sent to Indochina.

On May 7 Dulles said unless there was an "honorable" armistice there would be urgent need for "united action" to defend the area. He said Congress would have to be consulted and "only Congress can declare war."

On May 25 he said, "We don't go in alone ... We go in where the United Nations gives moral sanction to our action." On June 11 he said France must pledge to fight on until victory before American and Allied intervention in Southeast Asia.

If the Communists settle for northern Viet Nam—and the United States and Britain guarantee to help the French if the Vietminh ever cross the dividing line—the Communists will be agreeing to letting the Allies make southern Viet Nam an armed camp and an almost insuperable barrier against further advance.

They may demand this: a temporary division of Viet Nam with French agreement that within a certain time the Vietnamese will be allowed to vote in free elections for the government they want, after which the French would withdraw.

If the French buy that, the Allies can just about kiss off Indochina. Reports from there have indicated the Vietnamese in French territory now would vote for the Vietminh.

If the French make any deal by which they agree to withdraw from all of Indochina, the Allies can kiss off all Indochina. The Communists won't have to attack the rest of it. They can be depended upon to subvert it from within.

The Communists may decide the best way to foul up the West is simply to demand part of Viet Nam under a truce arrangement. That would turn Indochina into another Korea. There'd be no peace. But the Communists would have time for maneuvers.

A GREAT CONVOY of refugees moves out of the Red river delta in Indochina as the area is evacuated to the oncoming Vietminh Communists. In charge of the evacuation is Col. Vanuxen (left in inset), and aide Col. Galibert of the French union forces. (International Soundphotos)

One of the major difficulties is that sometimes a witness, working constantly in the same material, will tell more than he has personally experienced because it is not easy to separate what one has experienced from what one has heard from another person. Little of this data includes eye-witness operations; the witness has heard something at a meeting, or he has read of a meeting. We are dealing with a conspiracy and conspirators do not make it easy to uncover themselves.

If the reader is interested in a fictionized but, in my judgment, a thoroughly correct description of how this conspiracy works, he will find it in a serial recently published in "The Saturday Evening Post," entitled "The Darby Trial" by Dick Pearce. This story is correct in every detail. It will be seen here, a it is true everywhere, that within the movement there are many conspiracies and cover-ups.

The so-called "professional witness," for one reason or another, is serving this country and is not deserving of the calumny currently being heaped upon him by those who have never done the work necessary to know this field.

Student Marriage Policy Outlined

HOT SPRINGS, Akr (AP)—The Hot Springs School Board has adopted a policy that high school students planning to marry and continue in school must notify the principal in writing at least two weeks before the wedding.

The new policy also provides for a two-week "adjustment period" after the wedding, during which the couple is excused from classes.

Cops Prowl, Find Just Another Cop

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two police cars moved into the 800 block of East Broad Street here last night to investigate a "large white man wearing a T-shirt and a straw hat" and reported to have a pistol in his pocket.

It turned out to be another policeman—off duty but required to carry his weapon at all times.

Passenger Killed

IRONTON (AP)—An elderly Urbana man was killed last night when a produce truck plunged down an embankment near here after a collision with an automobile. Dead was Isaac Watkins, 76, a passenger in the truck driven by his son, Maurice.

YORK, Pa.—Eight-year-olds are chatting in French around here this summer, as a result of a unique experiment in teaching the language to elementary school children in public schools.

Dr. Victoria Lyles, director of elementary education for the school district of the city of York, has one-fourth of all the second and third graders in town speaking French.

"A child learns to speak English when he's only a year or two old," Dr. Lyles points out, "and it takes him only about a year to learn the language.

"So, we're teaching boys and girls who have just started school to speak French, using the same conversational method that taught them how to speak English."

Already, some of the second and third graders in York can carry on a chat in French with more ease than many a college student who is majoring in the language. Dr. Lyles thinks that is because the York schools are adopting a common-sense method of instruction.

Three young students of French enact "Little Red Riding Hood" playlet with some modern overtones. Teacher holds "set" in background. The dialogue, of course, is entirely in the French language.

"FIRST we teach them to talk the language, then we'll show them how to read French, later we'll give spelling lessons, and last of all we'll teach them grammar," she says. "The old way of teaching French does it in reverse."

The French study in elementary schools is building up, year by year, in York. Children who have been learning the language by conversational methods in the second and third grades during the past two years will begin reading it in the fourth grade, next September. Grammar won't be a formal subject for French students until about the seventh grade.

Unique methods are being used to encourage the youngsters to remember the intricacies of the language. Mickey and Minnie Mouse have been utilized to be memory guides for the genders of nouns. Each French noun is masculine or feminine, so masculine nouns are tied in with Mickey and the feminine nouns with Minnie. Games with balls are played in the classrooms to give practice on counting in French.

Picture books are widely used, to provide conversational topics, and old French folk songs like Frere Jacques have been relearned by the youngsters in the original language.

FRENCH was chosen as the language for this experiment for several reasons. It's the native tongue of some 75 million people, is spoken as the native tongue in some parts of Canada, is the language of diplomacy, and is the language that is taught in almost all the schools of Europe. That brings up another reason for Dr. Lyles' interest in language learning by youngsters—the world situation.

"If you've learned the language of a great people, you've increased your personal scope and have made a big step toward understanding that nation," she explains.

"I think that we should get acquainted with other nations through love, instead of through hate. We shouldn't have to go to war with a country to come into close contact with its people and way of thinking."

Already the York plan has borne fruit in one respect. This Pennsylvania city has been chosen by Bilingual World for "twinning" with a French city. Dignitaries, children, and just plain people in York will exchange letters with their equivalents in the old French city of Arles this year.

Visits are planned between the two cities, each will try the other's style of cooking, and a sort of exchange of living ideas will result.

Educators, religious leaders, Chamber of Commerce officials, and patriotic organizations have accepted places on the committee which will lead the way for York's get-acquainted efforts with Arles.

Bilingual World is an association which fosters efforts to solve world language problems by teaching people to speak both French and English.

Our Life 10 Years From Today Will Have Interesting Changes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If the world of today has you down, folks, just hold on—the world of tomorrow will be better.

A designing young man named Paul Wrablica whose job is to help create new industrial products better geared to the needs of mankind, says that in 10 years our civilization will be more fun for everybody in the family—mama, papa, and all their little two-legged tax deductions.

First, let us take up Wrablica's vista of joy for Dad a decade hence:

"The average man, because of greater production efficiency, will work only 30 hours a week and for more pay than he gets now.

"This will give him longer weekends, more leisure to enjoy the hobbies he likes. And their cost will come down. Suppose he likes sailing. Motor boats and sailboats will be molded from a single piece of plastic, as the bodies of some cars are now.

"That long wearisome ride from his job in the city to his home in the suburbs won't take so long. He'll speed there in a fraction of the present time in a jet-propelled monorail train.

"Even the parking problem will be solved to some extent with smaller cars and more automatic multi-level garages."

The housewife will have it even better, if the view in Wrablica's crystal ball is clear:

"Most homes will be air-conditioned the year around. This means less housework. There will be no danger of falling down stairs. There won't be many stairs. They will be replaced by elevators or inclined planes.

"The need for maids will practically disappear. The kitchen will become less important, because families will eat out more in restaurants that are truly homelike. There will be little formal entertaining in the home.

"Wives complain today about having to push or carry a heavy vacuum cleaner around. That won't be necessary at all. A woman will be able to plug a hose into an ordinary wall outlet and—zip—the dust will be sucked down into a disposal unit in the basement. Wives will have more and more time to spend caring for their children, going into politics or doing community work."

Wrablica is sure household gadgets of all kinds will be simpler, more durable, and less likely to need repairs.

And look what a pleasant life lies ahead for the kids in 1964:

"Movies will be piped directly into the home. Toys will be designed better for a child's real needs, and they'll be safer. In fact, life in general will be safer because of better design.

"Television will be commonplace in the schools.

"The TV-telephone will be coming into general use."

Personally, I am not so sure about this TV-phone gadget. What businessman wants to look another businessman in the eye when he is quoting prices over the phone? Teen-agers, of course will enjoy seeing each other in those long calls about their home work they make each evening.

But why pamper them? It's a mystery to grownups why any teenager can stand looking in a mirror, let alone look at another kid in the same age bracket. Most adults, remembering their own youth, are convinced that the kindest thing you can build for teen-agers is a cocoon in which they can hibernate until they're old enough to vote.

Wrablica, who teaches design at Pratt Institute, has another prediction that makes me even more unwary about his drafting board dreams of life in America in 50 years. It's about beds.

"You won't have to worry about electric blankets in the bed of the future," he said. "It'll have thermostatic controls built right into it. It'll have vibrating equipment so you can lie in your own bed and enjoy a massage before jumping up to go to work."

Jump up and face work when a man can lie in a bed that will automatically keep his neuroses at the right temperature, and give him all the exercise he needs, too? It'll never happen.

Why, put a few beds like that in the poorhouse and who'd ever take a job, or get up and face life?

"MYSTERY WOMAN" in the sensational Sheppard murder case in Cleveland is Susan Hayes (above), former technician at suburban Bay View hospital. Authorities investigating the bloody bludgeon slaying of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, wife of Dr. Samuel Sheppard, 30, want to question her about her relationship with the doctor. She lives in Downey, Calif., and said he gave her a wristwatch when he was attending a medical convention in Los Angeles. The Sheppard family operates the hospital. (International)

FAIRMONT, W.Va. (AP)—The bodies of a 27-year-old Marion County man and his young son, still clasped in his father's arms, were pulled from the Monongahela River yesterday.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Lohr Yeager said the victims, William Herron of Catawba and his 6-year-old son Wilber, had been missing since Sunday, soon after they went out in a homemade boat.

The boat, with side paddle wheels that Herron had constructed himself, was found Sunday night.

Pony League's GE Nine Wins Over Jaycees

First round Pony League champs General Electric got back on their winning track by defeating the Jaycees 11 to 3 Wednesday. GE suffered its first defeat of the season Monday at the hands of the Elks.

GE lit up the score board with a big five-run blast in the first inning. That alone would have been enough to win but they added one in the second and five more in the fifth. Jaycees scored twice in the third and once in the fourth.

Reds Better Idle Than Playing

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, who have been flirting with the National League's first division for several weeks, backed into a fourth place tie last night.

While the Reds had an off day, the Brooklyn Dodgers took a 2-1 decision from the Milwaukee Braves which dropped the Braves back into the tie with Cincinnati.

The Reds will have a chance tonight, however, to help themselves. They have a twinight doubleheader against the Philadelphia Phils and they're only two games back of the third place Philadelphians.

NO PILLARS obstruct the view of any of the 60,000 who can watch sports events in this new stadium just built in University City, Caracas, Venezuela. The stadium's unique cantilever construction could serve as a model for U.S. ball parks. (International)

Valdes Cuts Hurricane To Mere Breeze

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Valdes rides the glory road toward a 1955 shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano today as Hurricane Jackson blows harmlessly out to sea.

The lobby of Madison Square Garden told the story of last night's two-round TKO victory for the Cuban giant on the automatic three-knockdown rule. Valdes ambled through a swarm of happy admirers, pausing to sign autographs and greet handshakers.

Outside, in the pouring rain, Jackson walked with head down, mumbling to himself. His family trailed behind, trying to convince him to go back to the hotel.

"I won't fight nobody else until I fight him," Jackson had said in his dressing room. He made a stormy scene in the ring, tearing the referee's scorecard in two, before police ushered him to his dressing room.

"He had nothing," said Valdes, through an interpreter "He clown fighter. Everybody expect us to go to body, we go to head in second round." About Marciano? "I knock him out in four rounds."

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said "Valdes rates the next shot at Marciano after the rematch with Ezzard Charles that we hope to run in September."

Valdes, an 11-5 underdog, overwhelmed the listless Hurricane, who showed only one brief flash of the fiery fighter who rose from prelim boy to No. 5 contender.

11 Pitchers Could Chalk 20 Victories

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty, the elusive victory peak all pitchers hope to climb but only a few do, is well within reach of 11 major league moundsmen this season.

With the 1954 campaign entering its second phase, seven American League pitchers and four in the National are at least halfway "home."

Headed by Johnny Antonelli of the Giants (13-2), and Harvey Haddix of the Cards (13-4) the list includes Bob Keegan (12-3), Virgil Trucks (12-5) and Sandy Consuegra (10-3) of the White Sox, Mike Garcia (11-5) and Early Wynn (10-7) of the Indians, Robin Roberts of the Phillies (11-8), Bob Grim of the Yankees (10-3) and Steve Gromek of Detroit and Brooklyn's Carl Erskine (10-8).

Not since 1951 when 13 major league hurlers made the grade have the prospects for 20-game winners been so encouraging. The all-time record of 17 set in 1903 and tied in 1920 appears safe.

For some of the pitchers within striking distance this season, winning 20 games is nothing new.

Roberts, for example, has done it the last four years in a row. Starting with 1950, the Phillies' durable right-hander has won 20, 21, 28 and 23 in that order—a total, including 1954, of 103 triumphs. He has lost 57 during that span.

Erskine, Haddix and Trucks all finished with 20 victories last year.

Garcia had a 20-game year in 1952 with a 22-11 record and the year before that with 20 wins against 13 setbacks. Wynn also wound up with 20 in the bag in 1951 and '52.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Pennsy Star Holds Lead In Ohio Amateur

TOLEDO (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the 25-year-old son of a Latrobe, Pa., golf professional, still was a heavy favorite to retain his Ohio Amateur championship as third round play started at the Sylvania Country Club today. But there was speculation he won't do it without a struggle.

The cumbersome 153-man field which started the tourney trek Monday was down to 16 starting today. By tonight only four will remain for tomorrow's 36-hole semifinal rounds.

Palmer was pressed in both his matches yesterday, having to come from behind both times and was three down twice to 17-year-old Toledo junior champion Lee Raymond before finally beating the youngster, 2 to 1.

A turney-wise veteran, Ed Preisler, the 1946 champ from Cleveland, stole the spotlight with a birdie-filled round. He was four under par on the front nine and two under for 16 holes as he sidelined the 1954 runnerup, Howard B. Saunders of Gallipolis, 3 and 2.

A burst of close-to-par performances indicated that the golfers are getting onto Sylvania's exacting layout and two of the co-medalists found themselves out of the running. Ex-Yale golfer Bob Barton, Columbus, bowed to Jack Wehlan, Canton, 4 and 3, and Ohio State star George Smith of Dayton fell before Dorsey Nevergall, a veteran Lima campaigner, 1 up.

The other co-medalist, public links ace Carl Mengali, Columbus, breezed by two opponents.

One 'Stranger' In Women's Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — There was only one "stranger" in the field today as the Ohio Women's Amateur golf tournament reached its semifinal stage.

That was Miss Polly Martin, a 25-year-old St. Clairsville girl who teaches physical education at Lake Forest (Ill.) College. Although she has done a lot of tournament playing, Miss Martin never before has been as far as the semifinals of the state tournament.

The other three semifinalists, Miss Claire Doran of Cleveland, Miss Carol Diringer of Tiffin and Mrs. Burt Weil of Cincinnati, have accounted for seven state championships.

Bill Shantz, rookie catcher for the Athletics, was the most valuable player in the Panama loop last winter as a second baseman.

Walter Alston, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was graduated from the University of Miami (Ohio) in 1934.

Sport Briefs

The Manakiki Open, with a "bit-of-everything" flavor, opened today in Cleveland with 133 professionals seeking to split a $25,000 purse and 17 amateurs tagging along for a bit of glory.

Drawings will be made July 25 for the Ohio Hot Stove Baseball tournament, which will be held in Alliance Aug. 5-7 and Aug. 14-15.

The Ohio Racing Commission yesterday approved a 17-day running race meet at Fort Miami Oct. 9-Oct. 28 but denied Beulah Park at Columbus a 25-day session. The commission held to an earlier ruling giving Beulah 23 days, Sept. 13-Oct. 9.

Pronto Don, 7-year-old gelding from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Duquoin, Ill., has a chance tonight to become the richest of all trotters and pacers but is rated no better than an 8-1 shot to win the $35,000 Roosevelt Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

An electrical storm blew out a transformer last night at Grandview Oval, plunging the entire area into darkness at the end of four races. Lights went on after a few moments, but the remainder of the program was cancelled.

Indian Lineup Juggled Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In an attempt to end their longest losing string of the season, four straight to the Chicago White Sox, the Cleveland Indians will juggle their lineup once again for tonight's game with Philadelphia.

Shortstop George Strickland will sit out the opener of the 12-game eastern swing, and Sam Dente will take his place, Manager Al Lopez said, explaining:

"I want Strickland to get a good rest before starting the second half. He's had three days off now, so two or three more ought to do the trick."

Pony League's GE Nine Wins Over Jaycees

First round Pony League champs General Electric got back on their winning track by defeating the Jaycees 11 to 3 Wednesday. GE suffered its first defeat of the season Monday at the hands of the Elks.

GE lit up the score board with a big five-run blast in the first inning. That alone would have been enough to win but they added one in the second and five more in the fifth. Jaycees scored twice in the third and once in the fourth.

Reds Better Idle Than Playing

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, who have been flirting with the National League's first division for several weeks, backed into a fourth place tie last night.

While the Reds had an off day the Brooklyn Dodgers took a 2-1 decision from the Milwaukee Braves which dropped the Braves back into the tie with Cincinnati.

The Reds will have a chance tonight, however, to help themselves. They have a twinight doubleheader against the Philadelphia Phils and they're only two games back of the third place Philadelphians.

Valdes Cuts Hurricane To Mere Breeze

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Valdes rides the glory road toward a 1955 shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano today as Hurricane Jackson blows harmlessly out to sea.

The lobby of Madison Square Garden told the story of last night's two-round TKO victory for the Cuban giant on the automatic three-knockdown rule. Valdes ambled through a swarm of happy admirers, pausing to sign autographs and greet handshakers.

Outside, in the pouring rain, Jackson walked with head down, mumbling to himself. His family trailed behind, trying to convince him to go back to the hotel.

"I won't fight nobody else until I fight him," Jackson had said in his dressing room. He made a stormy scene in the ring, tearing the referee's scorecard in two, before police ushered him to his dressing room.

"He had nothing," said Valdes, through an interpreter "He clown fighter. Everybody expect us to go to body, we go to head in second round." About Marciano? "I knock him out in four rounds."

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said "Valdes rates the next shot at Marciano after the rematch with Ezzard Charles that we hope to run in September."

Valdes, an 11-5 underdog, overwhelmed the listless Hurricane, who showed only one brief flash of the fiery fighter who rose from prelim boy to No. 5 contender.

11 Pitchers Could Chalk 20 Victories

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty, the elusive victory peak all pitchers hope to climb but only a few do, is well within reach of 11 major league moundsmen this season.

With the 1954 campaign entering its second phase, seven American League pitchers and four in the National are at least halfway "home."

Headed by Johnny Antonelli of the Giants (13-2), and Harvey Haddix of the Cards (13-4) the list includes Bob Keegan (12-3), Virgil Trucks (12-5) and Sandy Consuegra (10-3) of the White Sox, Mike Garcia (11-5) and Early Wynn (10-7) of the Indians, Robin Roberts of the Phillies (11-8), Bob Grim of the Yankees (10-3) and Steve Gromek of Detroit and Brooklyn's Carl Erskine (10-8).

Not since 1951 when 13 major league hurlers made the grade have the prospects for 20-game winners been so encouraging. The all-time record of 17 set in 1903 and tied in 1920 appears safe.

Public Sale of Real Estate In Partition

At 2:00 P. M.

On Monday, July 19, 1954

At Circleville, Ohio, on the premises directly across from Court House the following business properties will be offered for sale.

FIRST:—
One story brick garage or Business Building with 44 ft. 8 in. frontage on South side of Franklin Street and depth of approximately 68 ft. Building constructed of cement block with brick facing. Ceiling steel beams and cement floor. Appraised $17,500.00.

SECOND:—
Two story brick building with aproximately 25 foot frontage on East side of South Court Street approximately 126 feet in depth. Appraised at $30,000.00.
First floor excellent location for business of any kind. Second floor modern apartment with living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath, fully equipped. Entire building recently remodeled.

Both buildings excellent business locations. Occupied for a number of years by the Albaugh Funeral Home.

Since these properties join and have been occupied as a unit they will first be offered separately and then as a whole.

These are centrally located properties and excellent locations in a rapidly growing business community.

'New' Pennant Race Slated For Opening

Weak Sisters In AL Due To Meet Yankees And Indians Today

By The Associated Press

The hapless, hitless and practically helpless Baltimore Orioles invade Yankee Stadium and the Philadelphia A's, equally futile, entertain the Cleveland Indians in what you might call the openers of the "new" American League pennant race.

Prof. Casey Stengel's Yankees, who spent the first half of the season flopping and floundering, have a nine-game winning streak going and are now just half a game behind the Indians, whose latest work included dropping four games to the Chicago White Sox.

The consensus around the league is that the Yanks have the upper hand now with one big "if." He is Allie Reynolds, who missed the All-Star Game because of a muscle pull in his left hip.

The ailment is a chronic one, but if it bothers him too much he may be forced back to the bullpen. Stengel has no abundance of pitchers so that could spell the difference between first and second place.

"My back, left leg and left hip pain when I try to pitch," said Allie. "I've had it since June 20 when I felt it in Chicago. It's bothered me ever since. That's the reason I've had trouble holding those big leads. I try to throw a fast ball, but the pain goes through the leg and the ball doesn't go very fast. Lately, it's been coming back much faster."

Trainer Gus Mauch of the Bombers also is somewhat puzzled.

"I don't think there's any cure but rest," he opined. "That's nature's way. If he doesn't try to pitch or run for a week, it may get better."

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, says he is not particularly worried over the events of the past week. He has one point — namely, the Indians are not the kind of club that will be held to five runs in four games as they were against the White Sox last weekend.

"Al Rosen and Bob Avila have been in batting slumps since their injuries," he said. "They're just in slumps that every player has to fight his way out of sometimes. They'll snap out of it and we'll be more dangerous than ever."

The White Sox, for their part, are three games off the pace and the way their pitching has come around, could make things uncomfortable for all concerned. Manager Paul Richards will send Bob Keegan against the Washington Senators tonight.

In the National League, the New York Giants start a Western trip with a five-game bulge over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who whipped the Milwaukee Braves 2-1 in 12 innings last night in the only major league game played.

The Brooklyn victory came the hard way before a crowd of 35,470, which boosted the Milwaukee attendance over the million mark. Duke Snider batted in the runs in the first and final innings on sacrifice flies. Jim Hughes, who took over for Russ Meyer in the ninth, was the winner.

The Dodger runs came in virtually identical situations. Both Junior Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese singled in the first and Snider sent the former home with a towering fly to left field. In the 12th again Gilliam singled and was followed by another hit from Reese's bat. Again Snider blasted a high fly to left, sending Gilliam home.

Bobby Thomson made his first National League appearance for the Braves in the 12th with two out and drew a walk. Lew Burdette took the loss.

Half Of Card At Hilliards Washed Out

But the harness racing fans had a nice surprise before the cloudburst. Atom Chief, a 30-1 shot, won the fourth race and paid $64.20. The summary:

First 30 Class pace, ⅝ mile, purse $400. Ohio Son (Don Miller), $5.60, 4.00, 2.40; Nellie V. (W. Amspaugh), 3.80, 2.60; Black Lace (M. Wilson), 2.40. Time: 1:20.

Second 30 Class pace, 1 mile, purse $400. Brown Sand (W. Bowser), $16.80, 13.20, 7.00; Jimmie Cochato (F. Trees), 8.60, 6.00; Success Miss (A. Edwards), 3.00. Time: 2: 4.

Third Three-year-old trot, 1 mile, purse $1,000. Lady's First (W. Mikesell), $2.20, 3.60, 2.20; Sharon K. Bradford (A. Coder), 12.00, 4.20; Gay Hill (M. Norris), 2.80. Time: 2:11.8.

Campanella Says Star Hurlers Weak

MILWAUKEE (AP)—You probably got the same idea from television—that the All-Star Game pitching Tuesday left something to be desired—and a guy who was in a position to know will back you up.

"Naw," said Roy Campanella last night, "none of 'em had much."

Campy was waiting his turn in the batting cage while his Brooklyn Dodger mates were warming up for what turned out to be their 2-1, 12-inning win over Milwaukee. He caught the first seven innings of the All-Star Game for the Nationals as the American Leaguers won 11 to 9.

"The only one who had anything at all was Marv Grissom," Campanella said. "His stuff was pretty good. The rest of 'em were way off."

Ohio Fishing Curtailed By Hot Weather

COLUMBUS (AP)—As any sophomore fisherman knows, the 90-100 plus degree temperatures of the last few days mean something less than good fishing.

In the first place, it's too hot for the fishermen. It's also too hot for the fish to have any appetite.

The result, says the state wildlife division, has been "spotty" fishing. And the division, which usually leans to the optimistic side on its forecasts, refused even to make a general fishing conditions forecast for the state. It did say most streams are clear to cloudy and lakes generally good to fair.

Conditions by districts:

Northwestern — Streams varied from roily to clear and no outstanding catches reported. Lake St. Marys is clear but low and fishing is rather poor with no change expected for the coming weekend. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County is clear, with some bass being caught. East Harbor is normal, with a few bass, bluegills and catfish being caught.

Southeastern — Most waters in fair fishing condition with Burr Oak Lake in Athens County and Piedmont Lake in Belmont County providing the best success. Such streams as the Walhonding, Willis Creek and the Muskingum are mostly clear and normal, but few fish being taken. Outlook for weekend rather poor.

Central, southern — Both lakes and streams in fair fishing condition with the olentangy, Scioto, Blacklick Creek and Alum Creek providing best fishing. Deer Creek in Madison County is clear and normal. Rocky Fork Lake in Highland County is clear as is Buckeye Lake.

Southwestern — Fishing rather poor in past week although some bass taken from some of the streams in Shelby, Logan and the Champaign counties, and some trout still being taken from Mad River and its tributaries in Champaign County. Indian Lake is clear, but low, with bass, bluegills and catfish being caught. Kiser Lake continues to produce some nice catches as does Stonelick and Cowan Lakes.

Little League Kiwanis Beats NH 10 To 4

Kiwanis Little Leaguers scored in alternat innings, the first, in alternate innings, the first, land 10 to 4 Wednesday. Aiding the winners was Don Pheifer who was just brought up from the younger Mosquito League. He banged out a two-run home run.

New Holland scored first with a run in the top of the first. But Kiwanis bounced back with three in the bottom of the same frame and were never headed. They scored twice in the third and five more times in the fifth. New Holland got two more markers in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Jake Bailey got three-for-three and Richard Greenlee had two hits, one a triple, for Kiwanis. Their infield also came up with three double plays.

Line score follows:

		R
New Holland	100 201 —	4
Kiwanis	302 05x —	10

Large; T. Bush.
Wellington, Bailey; Ferguson.

15 Little Leaguers Have Been Named To All-Star Team

Four boys from Kiwanis, General Electric and the Elks, plus three from Rotary Little League teams, have been named as first members of the Kochheiser All-Star team. The boys will meet the Chillicothe Little League All-Stars at Lewis Park Friday night under the lights at 8 p. m.

According to the setup, the roster will be changed from time to time in order to allow more boys to play from the local Little League. The boys named below were the first choices of all four team managers and park program director Dick Boyd. They include:

Terry Dean, Jake Bailey, Jim Wellington and Lyman England from Kiwanis; Dick Stevens, Terry Imler, Dave Caudill and Jim Gregg from GE; Cal Ellis (who recorded 17 strikeouts recently in one game), Brent Bell, Larry Hannahs and Paul Smith from Elks; and Asa Elsea, Willis Davis and Jerry Brigner from Rotary.

The lightest fighter ever to win the world heavyweight championship was Bob Fitzsimmons. He weighed 172 pounds. The heaviest was Primo Carnera at 267 pounds.

'New' Pennant Race Slated For Opening

Weak Sisters In AL Due To Meet Yankees And Indians Today

By The Associated Press

The hapless, hitless and practically helpless Baltimore Orioles invade Yankee Stadium and the Philadelphia A's, equally futile, entertain the Cleveland Indians in what you might call the openers of the "new" American League pennant race.

Prof. Casey Stengel's Yankees, who spent the first half of the season flopping and floundering, have a nine-game winning streak going and are now just half a game behind the Indians, whose latest work included dropping four games to the Chicago White Sox.

The consensus around the league is that the Yanks have the upper hand now with one big "if." He is Allie Reynolds, who missed the All-Star Game because of a muscle pull in his left hip.

The ailment is a chronic one, but if it bothers him too much he may be forced back to the bullpen. Stengel has no abundance of pitchers so that could spell the difference between first and second place.

"My back, left leg and left hip pain when I try to pitch," said Allie. "I've had it since June 20 when I felt it in Chicago. It's bothered me ever since. That's the reason I've had trouble holding those big leads. I try to throw a fast ball, but the pain goes through the leg and the ball doesn't go very fast. Lately, it's been coming back much faster."

Trainer Gus Mauch of the Bombers also is somewhat puzzled.

"I don't think there's any cure but rest," he opined. "That's nature's way. If he doesn't try to pitch or run for a week, it may get better."

Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, says he is not particularly worried over the events of the past week. He has one point — namely, the Indians are not the kind of club that will be held to five runs in four games as they were against the White Sox last weekend.

"Al Rosen and Bob Avila have been in batting slumps since their injuries," he said. "They're just in slumps that every player has to fight his way out of sometimes. They'll snap out of it and we'll be more dangerous than ever."

The White Sox, for their part, are three games off the pace and the way their pitching has come around, could make things uncomfortable for all concerned. Manager Paul Richards will send Bob Keegan against the Washington Senators tonight.

In the National League, the New York Giants start a Western trip with a five-game bulge over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who whipped the Milwaukee Braves 2-1 in 12 innings last night in the only major league game played.

The Brooklyn victory came the hard way before a crowd of 35,470, which boosted the Milwaukee attendance over the million mark. Duke Snider batted in the runs in the first and final innings on sacrifice flies. Jim Hughes, who took over for Russ Meyer in the ninth, was the winner.

The Dodger runs came in virtually identical situations. Both Junior Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese singled in the first and Snider sent the former home with a towering fly to left field. In the 12th again Gilliam singled and was followed by another hit from Reese's bat. Again Snider blasted a high fly to left, sending Gilliam home.

Bobby Thomson made his first National League appearance for the Braves in the 12th with two out and drew a walk. Lew Burdette took the loss.

Ohio Fishing Curtailed By Hot Weather

COLUMBUS (AP)—As any sophomore fisherman knows, the 90-100 plus degree temperatures of the last few days mean something less than good fishing.

In the first place, it's too hot for the fishermen. It's also too hot for the fish to have any appetite.

The result, says the state wildlife division, has been "spotty" fishing. And the division, which usually leans to the optimistic side on its forecasts, refused even to make a general fishing conditions forecast for the state. It did say most streams are clear to cloudy and lakes generally good to fair.

Conditions by districts:

Northwestern — Streams varied from roily to clear and no outstanding catches reported. Lake St. Marys is clear but low and fishing is rather poor with no change expected for the coming weekend. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County is clear, with some bass being caught. East Harbor is normal, with a few bass, bluegills and catfish being caught.

Southeastern — Most waters in fair fishing condition with Burr Oak Lake in Athens County and Piedmont Lake in Belmont County providing the best success. Such streams as the Walhonding, Willis Creek and the Muskingum are mostly clear and normal, but few fish being taken. Outlook for weekend rather poor.

Central, southern — Both lakes and streams in fair fishing condition with the olentangy, Scioto, Blacklick Creek and Alum Creek providing best fishing. Deer Creek in Madison County is clear and normal. Rocky Fork Lake in Highland County is clear as is Buckeye Lake.

Southwestern — Fishing rather poor in past week although some bass taken from some of the streams in Shelby, Logan and the Champaign counties, and some trout still being taken from Mad River and its tributaries in Champaign County. Indian Lake is clear, but low, with bass, bluegills and catfish being caught. Kiser Lake continues to produce some nice catches as does Stonelick and Cowan Lakes.

Half Of Card At Hilliards Washed Out

But the harness racing fans had a nice surprise before the cloudburst. Atom Chief, a 30-1 shot, won the fourth race and paid $64.20. The summary:

First 30 Class pace, ⅝ mile, purse $400. Ohio Son (Don Miller), $5.60, 4.00, 2.40; Nellie V. (W. Amspaugh), 3.80, 2.60; Black Lace (M. Wilson), 2.40. Time: 1:20.

Second 30 Class pace, 1 mile, purse $400. Brown Sand (W. Bowser), $16.80, 13.20, 7.00; Jimmie Cochato (F. Trees), 8.60, 6.00; Success Miss (A. Edwards), 3.00. Time: 2: 4.

Third Three-year-old trot, 1 mile, purse $1,000. Lady's First (W. Mikesell), $2.20, 3.60, 2.20; Sharon K. Bradford (A. Coder), 12.00, 4.20; Gay Hill (M. Norris), 2.80. Time: 2:11.8.

Campanella Says Star Hurlers Weak

MILWAUKEE (AP)—You probably got the same idea from television—that the All-Star Game pitching Tuesday left something to be desired—and a guy who was in a position to know will back you up.

"Naw," said Roy Campanella last night, "none of 'em had much."

Campy was waiting his turn in the batting cage while his Brooklyn Dodger mates were warming up for what turned out to be their 2-1, 12-inning win over Milwaukee. He caught the first seven innings of the All-Star Game for the Nationals as the American Leaguers won 11 to 9.

"The only one who had anything at all was Marv Grissom," Campanella said. "His stuff was pretty good. The rest of 'em were way off."

Little League Kiwanis Beats NH 10 To 4

Kiwanis Little Leaguers scored in alternat innings, the first, in alternate innings, the first, land 10 to 4 Wednesday. Aiding the winners was Don Pheifer who was just brought up from the younger Mosquito League. He banged out a two-run home run.

New Holland scored first with a run in the top of the first. But Kiwanis bounced back with three in the bottom of the same frame and were never headed. They scored twice in the third and five more times in the fifth. New Holland got two more markers in the fourth and one in the sixth.

Jake Bailey got three-for-three and Richard Greenlee had two hits, one a triple, for Kiwanis. Their infield also came up with three double plays.

Line score follows:

		R
New Holland	100 201 —	4
Kiwanis	302 05x —	10

Large; T. Bush.
Wellington, Bailey; Ferguson.

15 Little Leaguers Have Been Named To All-Star Team

Four boys from Kiwanis, General Electric and the Elks, plus three from Rotary Little League teams, have been named as first members of the Kochheiser All-Star team. The boys will meet the Chillicothe Little League All-Stars at Lewis Park Friday night under the lights at 8 p. m.

According to the setup, the roster will be changed from time to time in order to allow more boys to play from the local Little League. The boys named below were the first choices of all four team managers and park program director Dick Boyd. They include:

Terry Dean, Jake Bailey, Jim Wellington and Lyman England from Kiwanis; Dick Stevens, Terry Imler, Dave Caudill and Jim Gregg from GE; Cal Ellis (who recorded 17 strikeouts recently in one game), Brent Bell, Larry Hannahs and Paul Smith from Elks; and Asa Elsea, Willis Davis and Jerry Brigner from Rotary.

The lightest fighter ever to win the world heavyweight championship was Bob Fitzsimmons. He weighed 172 pounds. The heaviest was Primo Carnera at 267 pounds.

Husbands Advised How To Do Things Wrong During Storm

Box In Window With Plant May Cause Trouble

Nervous Cats, Dogs Are Problem When Lightning Cracks

This is the time of year when almost any Pickaway County husband may be called upon suddenly to protect his home against the crashing terrors of an electrical storm—while his wife is out visiting and telling how she manages everything single-handed.

The advice given here won't stop her from throwing around the same baloney, but at least it will make the task easier for the unrecognized head of the household. The following helpful information is given free and in the spirit of sympathetic understanding. Read on, and let us assume that the storm has struck with a rabbit punch.

While you're looking out the front door, a blast of rain, leaves, twigs, and burn-pile debris comes through the back windows. Do not hurry immediately to the back of the house, as this is a human error too frequently made.

Pause where you are for 10 seconds long enough to let a bolt of unharnessed electrical power slip in the door, slap the electric fan into reverse and short-circuit the oldest cat. Far better you should let the bolt in the front door than have it kick its way down the chimney and slide down the stairs.

THERE IS only one thing worse than meeting a bolt of lightning coming downstairs on a hit-skip basis. And that's to get in the way of a scared cat while she's trying to crawl inside a huge Chinese vase which was left over from the Boxer Rebellion.

Indeed, a husband alone in the house when an electrical storm strikes must have two things uppermost in his mind. The animals and the potted plant layout that's wedged into one of the open windows. The dogs and cats will be scared stiff, and the fiendish arrangement by which the plant is fixed on the window sill will require nerves of steel.

Keep in mind that if you upset the unholy tangle of green stuff growing in the long window-box, complete with three pounds of crushed gravel and a china dog decoration, it is far better you should get hit by the lightning. Husbands, after all, are expendable, whereas the plants in the window have been grown with loving care.

At your earliest opportunity, grab a flashlight and count the litter of kittens. Nobody wants to step on kittens in a dark corner during an electrical storm. The task will not be as easy as it sounds, chiefly because somebody took the batteries out of the flashlight, and the wall lamp happens to be the one from which the last visiting cousin (on your wife's side) stole the bulb so she could read a comic book in bed.

Be careful how you talk to yourself near the kittens. They are influenced easily and may go into panic. After doing your best, hurry upstairs. By now the storm is having its way on the second floor and the whole place sounds like a rifle range.

Upstairs you will be faced with a problem for which there is no standard procedure — which window to close first. In this particular detail, you're on your own. However, a word of caution may help.

WHEN YOU slam down the window in the bathroom, don't stop to wonder why it hit with a dull thud. It's your wife's toothpaste—at 41 cents a tube—on the windowsill. Leave the window closed. Let her find it.

Then too windows in the main bedroom must not be confused with ordinary windows. They are draped, entangled, half-covered and wrapped in lace, 50 yards of flower-printed material and the electric cord extension which goes five times around the house to reach a bedside lamp.

Many a calm-tempered man has flipped his lid trying to close a bedroom window during a wind and rain storm. Sit down first, take a rest and count up to 100. Size it up like a golf putt. No two windows are alike.

Then, when you're ready, stick your face into the driving rain, place one hand on the window and the other on the screen. Pull with one and yank with the other. This normally gets results. You'll break the screen, slam down the window with a crash that gives the youngest dog a case of the shakes, and find that you've left about 10 yards of the fancy material sticking outside in the storm.

Proceed immediately to other sections. Window drape material can be obtained at any auction without half trying.

In your office quarters, use a frontal attack on the big window behind your desk jumping high over the dogs and knocking down a set of books, an address file and the desk lamp. This invariably makes the dogs worse, and unless watched carefully they may ease their tension by taking off after the cats. Be firm and yell at them to be at ease.

THIS OFTEN brings an answering shout from the lady next-door (she wants to know if you need help) but this can be brushed off with almost any casual reply. Recommended:

"Quite a blow we're having, eh? Well, the farmers need it."

Don't let this get to the conversation stage, however, because you'll have to hurry downstairs again. You've forgotten to check that plant box in the kitchen window.

On your way downstairs, don't be fooled into trying to do anything about that screen on the landing. That's the one that wasn't quite big enough, and your sister-in-law sewed on another half-foot to the left-hand side, remember? During a storm you can always get half of this screen out, but to pull out the rest you'll have to take off the northern side of the house.

Downstairs, you'll notice the dogs are peeking from behind the couch and the cats will be hanging from the chandelier. This is good, as it gets them out of the way. Hurry direct to the window box and begin to tug and pull with one hand, using the other to untangle the cord attached to the electric iron. The cord will come loose much sooner than the window box but don't overlook that pole which holds the cord aloft on the ironing board—like an antenna on an aircraft carrier.

Waving this gadget around aimlessly, you almost surely will find you've hooked the curtains. If so, there is only one thing to do. Wrap it up in the curtains and tuck it neatly on the windowsill.

THEN, WITH all the skill you can summon, lift the plant box — weeds, gravel, dirt, china dog and all—from the windowsill to the kitchen table. Prop it up carefully —but quickly, because at this instant the doorbell will ring and it is the Big I Am returning.

She will be in a hurry to get out of the rain, and when she comes in the door she will be full of questions, advice and predictions. Some of the latter will be true, because when she goes direct to the kitchen, she will find the plant box has flopped over on its side, spilling the dirt and gravel all over the floor and dumping the green things over the ironing board, roots-up.

You must, at this moment summon all your fortitude, because the Big I Am will begin waving his arms and screaming:

"Can't I go away for an hour without you wrecking the place?"

Do not answer, under any circumstances. Turn, instead, and go immediately upstairs. On your way up, it is very possible that you will pass one of the cats. If so, and if you feel it will help, you may speak roughly to the cat—in a low voice.

Husbands Advised How To Do Things Wrong During Storm

Box In Window With Plant May Cause Trouble

Nervous Cats, Dogs Are Problem When Lightning Cracks

This is the time of year when almost any Pickaway County husband may be called upon suddenly to protect his home against the crashing terrors of an electrical storm—while his wife is out visiting and telling how she manages everything single-handed.

The advice given here won't stop her from throwing around the same baloney, but at least it will make the task easier for the unrecognized head of the household. The following helpful information is given free and in the spirit of sympathetic understanding. Read on, and let us assume that the storm has struck with a rabbit punch.

While you're looking out the front door, a blast of rain, leaves, twigs, and burn-pile debris comes through the back windows. Do not hurry immediately to the back of the house, as this is a human error too frequently made.

Pause where you are for 10 seconds long enough to let a bolt of unharnessed electrical power slip in the door, slap the electric fan into reverse and short-circuit the oldest cat. Far better you should let the bolt in the front door than have it kick its way down the chimney and slide down the stairs.

THERE IS only one thing worse than meeting a bolt of lightning coming downstairs on a hit-skip basis. And that's to get in the way of a scared cat while she's trying to crawl inside a huge Chinese vase which was left over from the Boxer Rebellion.

Indeed, a husband alone in the house when an electrical storm strikes must have two things uppermost in his mind. The animals and the potted plant layout that's wedged into one of the open windows. The dogs and cats will be scared stiff, and the fiendish arrangement by which the plant is fixed on the window sill will require nerves of steel.

Keep in mind that if you upset the unholy tangle of green stuff growing in the long window-box, complete with three pounds of crushed gravel and a china dog decoration, it is far better you should get hit by the lightning. Husbands, after all, are expendable, whereas the plants in the window have been grown with loving care.

At your earliest opportunity, grab a flashlight and count the litter of kittens. Nobody wants to step on kittens in a dark corner during an electrical storm. The task will not be as easy as it sounds, chiefly because somebody took the batteries out of the flashlight, and the wall lamp happens to be the one from which the last visiting cousin (on your wife's side) stole the bulb so she could read a comic book in bed.

Be careful how you talk to yourself near the kittens. They are influenced easily and may go into panic. After doing your best, hurry upstairs. By now the storm is having its way on the second floor and the whole place sounds like a rifle range.

Upstairs you will be faced with a problem for which there is no standard procedure — which window to close first. In this particular detail, you're on your own. However, a word of caution may help.

WHEN YOU slam down the window in the bathroom, don't stop to wonder why it hit with a dull thud. It's your wife's toothpaste—at 41 cents a tube—on the windowsill. Leave the window closed. Let her find it.

Then too windows in the main bedroom must not be confused with ordinary windows. They are draped, entangled, half-covered and wrapped in lace, 50 yards of flower-printed material and the electric cord extension which goes five times around the house to reach a bedside lamp.

Many a calm-tempered man has flipped his lid trying to close a bedroom window during a wind and rain storm. Sit down first, take a rest and count up to 100. Size it up like a golf putt. No two windows are alike.

Then, when you're ready, stick your face into the driving rain, place one hand on the window and the other on the screen. Pull with one and yank with the other. This normally gets results. You'll break the screen, slam down the window with a crash that gives the youngest dog a case of the shakes, and find that you've left about 10 yards of the fancy material sticking outside in the storm.

Proceed immediately to other sections. Window drape material can be obtained at any auction without half trying.

In your office quarters, use a frontal attack on the big window behind your desk jumping high over the dogs and knocking down a set of books, an address file and the desk lamp. This invariably makes the dogs worse, and unless watched carefully they may ease their tension by taking off after the cats. Be firm and yell at them to be at ease.

THIS OFTEN brings an answering shout from the lady next-door (she wants to know if you need help) but this can be brushed off with almost any casual reply. Recommended:

"Quite a blow we're having, eh? Well, the farmers need it."

Don't let this get to the conversation stage, however, because you'll have to hurry downstairs again. You've forgotten to check that plant box in the kitchen window.

On your way downstairs, don't be fooled into trying to do anything about that screen on the landing. That's the one that wasn't quite big enough, and your sister-in-law sewed on another half-foot to the left-hand side, remember? During a storm you can always get half of this screen out, but to pull out the rest you'll have to take off the northern side of the house.

Downstairs, you'll notice the dogs are peeking from behind the couch and the cats will be hanging from the chandelier. This is good, as it gets them out of the way. Hurry direct to the window box and begin to tug and pull with one hand, using the other to untangle the cord attached to the electric iron. The cord will come loose much sooner than the window box but don't overlook that pole which holds the cord aloft on the ironing board—like an antenna on an aircraft carrier.

Waving this gadget around aimlessly, you almost surely will find you've hooked the curtains. If so, there is only one thing to do. Wrap it up in the curtains and tuck it neatly on the windowsill.

THEN, WITH all the skill you can summon, lift the plant box — weeds, gravel, dirt, china dog and all—from the windowsill to the kitchen table. Prop it up carefully —but quickly, because at this instant the doorbell will ring and it is the Big I Am returning.

She will be in a hurry to get out of the rain, and when she comes in the door she will be full of questions, advice and predictions. Some of the latter will be true, because when she goes direct to the kitchen, she will find the plant box has flopped over on its side, spilling the dirt and gravel all over the floor and dumping the green things over the ironing board, roots-up.

You must, at this moment summon all your fortitude, because the Big I Am will begin waving his arms and screaming:

"Can't I go away for an hour without you wrecking the place?"

Do not answer, under any circumstances. Turn, instead, and go immediately upstairs. On your way up, it is very possible that you will pass one of the cats. If so, and if you feel it will help, you may speak roughly to the cat—in a low voice.

The cat probably won't take back. And anyway the storm's over.
